References are cited in order of 1) author, 2) date, 3) title, 4) publication facts, and 5) retrieval information, if any.

BROCHURES/PAMPHLETS

A PRINT BROCHURE WITH A CORPORATE AUTHOR (see page 199 in the APA 6 manual for more information)

Corporate author. (Year of Publication). Title of the brochure [Brochure]. Location of Publisher: Publisher.

NOTE: Brochures and pamphlets are often written by corporate authors (a company, group, corporation, or school). If the brochure is written by a person (an author), he or she would be placed in the corporate author spot (i.e., Author, A. A.). Often, the corporate author is also the publisher. In that case, the word Author would be placed in the publisher spot. If there is not a date on the brochure, n. d. would go in the publication year position. If the document is a pamphlet, use [Pamphlet] instead of [Brochure].

Example:

Chicago, IL: Author.

NOTE: In this case, the corporate author is also the publisher, so the word Author is listed as the publisher. The location of the publisher needs both the city and the state (using the U.S. Postal Service abbreviation). The words Titan and Renaissance are capitalized because they are proper nouns.

AN ONLINE BROCHURE WITH A CORPORATE AUTHOR (see page 199 in the APA 6 manual for more information)

NOTE: Brochures and pamphlets are often written by corporate authors (a company, group, corporation, or school). If the brochure is written by a person (an author), he or she would be placed in the corporate author spot (i.e., Author, A. A.). If there is not a date on the brochure, n. d. would go in the publication year position. If the document is a pamphlet, use [Pamphlet] instead of [Brochure]. Do not underline or place a period after the web address. Try to keep the web address on one line if at all possible.

Example:

NOTE: In this case, n.d. is used because no date was located. Do not underline or place a period after the web address. Try to keep the web address on one line if at all possible.
SOURCES FROM COURSEPACKS (ARTICLES, ESSAYS, WEB PAGES, ETC.)

NOTE: A coursepack is a compilation of materials (essays, articles, etc.) that were placed in a bound format by a faculty member for a class. APA 6 provides no specific instructions on how to cite an item from a coursepack. However, in viewing other universities’ APA 6 instructions, many tend to view this item as part of an anthology (compilation).

IMPORTANT: If you can find complete information about the source (article, essay, etc.) outside of the coursepack, format your APA 6 reference entry using APA 6 style for that source (i.e., format as a journal article found on a database, format as a journal article found in print, format as a journal article found online). If you cannot find the article, essay, etc. outside of the coursepack, please use the following format to create your reference entry.

GENERAL FORMAT FOR CREATING A REFERENCE ENTRY FOR A SCHOLARLY JOURNAL ARTICLE FOUND IN A COURSEPACK AT SULLIVAN UNIVERSITY

Author, A. A. (Year that the Coursepack was Created). Title of the article. In A. A. Faculty (Ed.), Course number: Title on the coursepack (pp. xx-xx). Louisville, KY: Sullivan University. (Reprinted from Title of the Journal, volume number(issue number), pp. xx –xx, Year of Publication).

NOTE: The author is the writer of the article that was found in the coursepack. Look on the first couple of pages to find the year that the coursepack was created. If you cannot find a year, use n.d. List the faculty member who compiled the coursepack as an editor. List the class’ course number and the title of the coursepack (it may be the same as class name). The page numbers after the coursepack title are the page numbers in which the article can be found in the coursepack. If the coursepack is unnumbered, leave the page numbers out of the reference entry. In parentheses near the end of the reference entry, indicate the journal in which the article was published along with a volume number, issue number, and page numbers, if available).

Example:

NOTE: Smith is the author of the journal article; Jones is the faculty member who compiled the course pack. 2011 is the year that the coursepack was created. MGT 301: Principles of management is the course number and title of the coursepack (if the coursepack does not have a name, use the class name). Pages 12-33 are the page numbers where the article can be found in the coursepack. Journal of Management for the Twenty-First Century is the name of the journal in which the article was published. The volume and issue numbers are for the journal title (if you are unsure whether each issue begins on page 1, use the issue number). If you cannot find the volume or issue number, do not list in the reference entry. Pages 2-23 are the page numbers where the article can be found in the Journal of Management for the Twenty-First Century. If the page numbers cannot be found, do not list in the reference entry. The year 2009 is the year in which the article was published in the journal. (Please do not try to locate this article; this is not a true article – it was created for use as an example).