Are You "HOT! HOT! HOT!"?
Travel and Tourism Cruise a Huge Success

The 1994 cruise for Sullivan College's Travel and Tourism students began at 5:30 a.m. on a crisp Saturday morning in September. The theme of this year's trip was the question, "How You Feelin'?" with the response being, "HOT! HOT! HOT!"

As students drifted into Louisville's Standford Field to begin the first leg of their trip, that was the question they were all asking each other. With most still rubbing the sleep from their eyes, the best "HOT! HOT! HOT!" thing most could think about was a cup of hot coffee!

The students and their chaperones — Sherry Klein, director of graduate employment for Sullivan College's National Center for Hospitality Studies; Bettye Smothers, Travel and Tourism department chairperson; and Tammy Riggs, the Travel Program coordinator from Sullivan College's Lexington campus — boarded a plane and flew to Orlando, where they spent two days visiting Walt Disney World and Universal Studios. According to Mrs. Klein, "Everyone had a really great time, especially at Disney's Hoop De Doo Revue."

On Monday morning, everyone boarded a chartered bus for the trip to Miami where they were to board their cruise ship, The Ecstasy, which was to take them first to Key West and then on to Cozumel, Mexico.

"When we got to Key West, everyone was excited to be able to see a very historic part of our country," said Mrs. Klein.

Cozumel was the next stop on the itinerary. In Mexico, the members of the group were able to talk to the locals and learn about their city. In addition, some of the students went on tours, others went scuba diving and some just shopped. It rained, but that didn't seem to dampen anyone's enthusiasm or enjoyment as everyone came back with many wonderful experiences to share with one another.

On Thursday night, The Ecstasy set sail again, this time heading back to Miami. The ship docked at 7:00 a.m. Friday morning. The group boarded their bus for the ride back to Orlando and the flight home to Louisville after a very enjoyable and exciting trip.

Oh, by the way, a very "HOT! HOT! HOT!" time was had by all.

The annual cruise is one of two trips included as part of the curriculum for Travel and Tourism students at no additional cost.

Field trips are but one of the ways in which the classroom learning experience is enhanced for students at Sullivan College.

Hotel and Restaurant Management students (left) took a tour of Louisville's Brown Hotel to gain a better understanding of all the elements involved in operating a major enterprise.

A view from the bench...Paralegal Studies program students (above) recently took a trip to Frankfort, Kentucky, to get a first-hand look at the workings of the Kentucky State Supreme Court.
General Electric recently chose Sullivan College over the University of Louisville, Bellarmine College and Spalding University to provide a new program for the company’s Appliance Park University (APU), making Sullivan College the newest addition to the lineup of private and public colleges offering degree programs to Appliance Park employees. Under the agreement, Sullivan College offers GE employees a Bachelor of Science Degree in Business Administration with a computer information systems concentration.

“This is a way for us to reach a greater number of potential students,” said A.R. Sullivan, president of Sullivan College.

Sullivan College has long been considered a leader in computer training and education in the Kentucky area. The college was the first in the region to offer Visual Basic and Visual C++ computer programming classes. In addition, the college’s computer labs are among the most modern and up-to-date in the area. These were among the factors that were heavily considered in adding Sullivan College to the APU mix.

“GE officials were very impressed with the quality of instruction and equipment that Sullivan provides,” said Thomas Davisson, Sullivan College’s vice president for school operations.

According to Bonnie Gimbel, APU’s degree program coordinator, GE chose Sullivan College over the other institutions because Sullivan offered the combination of courses that best meet the needs of GE workers. “In all our programs, we try to find the college program that seems the most appropriate for the
The Sweet Smell of Success: Culinary Students Bake Up Another Award-Winning Recipe for Success

Students from Sullivan College's National Center for Hospitality Studies recently baked up another award-winning recipe for success by bringing home eight awards from their trip to the American Culinary Federation (ACF) Cincinnati Salon competition.

The team from Sullivan College competed against other culinary students, as well as a wide variety of professional chefs from such cities as Cincinnati, Columbus, Ohio, and St. Louis, Missouri.

Each of the five members of Sullivan's competition team won at least one award. Multiple award winners were Ann Gates, who received a Gold medal and was named Best Student in Show; Scott Turner, who earned both Silver and Gold medals; and Angie Vives, who won a Silver medal and a Special Judges' Award. Individual winners were Cam Cooley, who earned a Silver medal and Patty Bigari, who won a Bronze medal.

According to Chef Walter Rhea, winning awards is not the purpose of participating in culinary salon competitions. "We don't go to these shows to win medals. Learning is the objective. We want our students to learn more than they would in just the normal classroom environment. An award is just an added bonus," Chef Rhea said.

Since Sullivan College's culinary teams began competing in local, regional, and national events seven years ago, they have amassed over 100 awards in ACF approved competitions!

Culinary Team Brings Home Eight More Awards

"Because we win a lot of medals, doesn't mean they are easy to come by," Chef Rhea stated. He added, "To get a medal in an ACF sponsored competition today is almost like winning a medal in the International Culinary Olympics (ICO). The standards for these competitions are exactly the same as for the ICO. Also, 90 to 95 percent of the competitors don't win anything. That makes our record at these events even more outstanding."

"Our award-winning success at the culinary salon competitions we enter are the result of two primary factors," said A.R. Sullivan, president of Sullivan College. "First, it exemplifies the quality of student attracted to Sullivan College. And secondly, it is a reflection of the superior quality, dedication and commitment of the faculty who teach and coach these remarkable young men and women."

Chef Rhea added, "Chef Spendlove and I are pure teachers. That's what we live for and love."

Sullivan College's culinary competition team is coached by two of the premier chef-instructors in the United States — Certified Master Pastry Chef Walter "Spud" Rhea, winner of the 1993 Chef Professionalism Award, one of the American Culinary Federation's highest honors; and Certified Executive Pastry Chef Derek Spendlove, who has successfully competed in numerous international culinary salons, representing his native country of Ireland. Sullivan College's National Center for Hospitality Studies has one of the few American Culinary Federation Educational Institute accredited Baking and Pastry Arts degree programs in the United States.

The Herald wishes to add its congratulations to the culinary competition team for another job well done!

Scott Turner's delicate center-piece reflects the skill, craftsmanship and artistry that earned him a Gold medal for his creation.
Bachelor's Enrollment Soars

Since Sullivan College was licensed by the Kentucky Council on Higher Education to offer the Bachelor of Science in Business Administration (B.S.B.A.) Degree in 1990, enrollment has grown by leaps and bounds.

From its start in the Fall quarter of 1990 with 32 juniors, enrollment has boomed to over 400 junior and senior students in the Fall quarter of 1994.

The tremendous growth of the B.S.B.A. Degree program can be attributed to several factors. First, Sullivan College’s reputation for providing quality career education is well established within the business community.

In addition, the B.S.B.A. program has become extremely popular with students. By offering junior and senior level courses at nights and on weekends, students are able to continue working, thereby gaining valuable work experience and an income while completing their education.

The program’s flexibility offers yet another advantage. Students with an Associate Degree or sufficient transfer credits from another institution can complete the B.S.B.A. program in as little as 18 months. Those students whose personal and professional commitments don’t allow this fast pace can take one or two classes each quarter.
It was standing room only at Sullivan College's recent commencement ceremony for Winter and Spring graduates held at the Southern Theological Seminary's Alumni Chapel. Well over 300 Winter and Spring quarter graduates marched down the aisles to receive their degrees as more than 1,000 family and friends looked on.

In welcoming the graduates, their families and friends, Thomas Davisson, vice president, said, “This is a celebration to honor the winners — you, the graduates.”

While commencement marks the end of one stage in an individual’s life, it also is the beginning of new challenges and adventures yet to come. “This is a time of putting people into the real world, the world of success,” said A.R. Sullivan, president of Sullivan College.

Keynote speaker, United States Congressman Romano (Ron) Mazzoli told the graduates, “As you leave here, carry a greater sense of responsibility with you. Don’t be a cynic; also don’t be naive. Find the middle ground where happiness is found.”

Following his address, Congressman Mazzoli was presented with an Honorary Doctorate degree, the first ever given by Sullivan College.

Commencement ceremonies for Summer and Fall quarter graduates will be held in January.

Mazzoli Honored

Sullivan College awarded its first ever Honorary Doctorate Degree to United States Representative Romano (Ron) L. Mazzoli during the college’s summer commencement ceremony.

In addition to receiving his honorary degree, Congressman Mazzoli also presented the keynote address at the graduation ceremony.

Chef Spendlove Wins 1994 “Henry” Award

Chef Derek C. Spendlove, a Certified Executive Pastry Chef, Certified Culinary Educator and senior instructor in Sullivan College’s National Center for Hospitality Studies Baking and Pastry Arts program, was a recent recipient of the “Henry” award.

“Winning a ‘Henry’ award is a special honor for me because it represents recognition by my peers in the culinary profession,” Chef Spendlove stated.

Chef Spendlove has a long history in the hospitality industry. He began his culinary career at the age of 14 with a five-year apprenticeship program in Ireland, his native country.

Over his 18-year career, Chef Spendlove has successfully competed in numerous international culinary salons, representing Ireland. With his vast knowledge and expertise, he was invited to come to the United States and join the faculty at Baltimore (Md.) International Culinary Arts College, where he taught for four years.

He joined the faculty at Sullivan College’s National Center for Hospitality Studies in 1989. He teaches baking, theory, merchandising, and international baking and pastry.

“I enjoy teaching,” said Chef Spendlove, adding, “It’s a delight every day to be able to pass on knowledge and skills to the students and to see them learn and grow. At Sullivan’s National Center, students are exposed to some of the country’s best chef-instructors and the latest equipment available that will take them into the year 2000 and beyond in the hospitality industry.”

Sullivan College’s National Center for Hospitality Studies has a national and international reputation, drawing students from 22 states and several foreign countries. The National Center’s Culinary Arts and Baking and Pastry Arts programs are among only a handful of programs in the United States fully accredited by the American Culinary Federation Educational Institute.

Sullivan College Receives $5,000 Grant from Microsoft

Sullivan College recently received a $5,000 Innovators in Higher Education grant from Microsoft Corporation to continue development of its computer education programs. Sullivan is one of only five colleges and universities nationwide to receive one of these grants.

Under this new Microsoft NT project, Sullivan College will become a Microsoft Certified Institution and all students graduating from the program will be Microsoft certified.

With the recent addition of two new 486-DX computer labs, cutting edge computer classes and now this new software agreement with Microsoft, Sullivan College continues to enhance its standing in the community as a leader in computer career education.

Future issues of The Herald will provide more information on this exciting new program.
The Beautification League of Louisville and Jefferson County recently presented a First Place Award to Sullivan College in recognition of the outstanding landscaping and excellent maintenance of the campus grounds. Accepting the award on behalf of Sullivan College (from left to right) are: Mike Fowler, facilities manager; Mike McConnell, head groundskeeper; Mark Willard, maintenance; and Billy Dewees, grounds assistant.

The pride they have shown in keeping Sullivan’s campus clean and beautiful contributes to the overall excellence of Sullivan College and aids in providing a pleasant environment in which to study and work.
Let Them Eat Cake

Master Pastry Chef Walter “Spud” Rhea prepared and decorated cakes to help the Belle of Louisville celebrate its 80th birthday.

Chef Rhea had his hands full preparing enough cake to feed the more than 800 birthday party guests.
Students enrolled in Sullivan College’s National Center for Hospitality Studies Culinary and Baking and Pastry Arts programs learn more than cooking and baking.

Graduates Keep in Touch

A recent letter to Sullivan College’s Graduate Employment Services office.

Dear Donna:

How have you been doing? I just wanted to drop you a few lines to let you know how things were going here at BellSouth Mobility.

I am still enjoying my job. I got 100% on my review, a $258 bonus, and also won the “Excellence in Kentucky” award in the Administrative Assistant Department for the first quarter. All of the people who won the awards (it was 13 of us), were taken to dinner at Del Frisco’s and presented their awards. The dinner was real nice and I really enjoyed it. I also was invited to breakfast at Courtyard by the Marriott by the General Manager. It is something he does every now and then to get acquainted with the employees. There were about seven of us there and that was nice also.

So overall, things are going just fine here and I am happy to be working for BellSouth.

I will continue to keep you posted on my job.

Sincerely,

Mitzi Whitlow

Welcome to Sullivan College

John Padgett, Jr. and Brad Tolbert both joined the Sullivan College family this past August.

Padgett is the new Chief Academic Officer/Dean of the College. His academic background includes a bachelor's degree from Indiana University, and a master's degree and an education specialist, both from the University of Toledo. He also is a doctoral candidate in higher education and leadership from the University of Toledo.

He comes to Sullivan College after five years as a faculty member at Spring Arbor College (Michigan) and nine years at Davis College (Ohio) where he served as Dean of Institutional Research.

Tolbert, a Kentucky native, comes to Sullivan College from Radford University in Radford, Virginia, where he served as Assistant Director and Area Coordinator for Residence Life Programs. He has both a bachelor's degree and a master's degree from Western Kentucky University.

Tolbert said one of the factors that attracted him to the position of Director of Housing and Student Activities at Sullivan College was the opportunity to develop more educational activities at the residence halls. “Seventy to 80 percent of a students time in college is spent outside the classroom,” Tolbert said. “If we can impact this time with additional learning opportunities, we can be an even greater positive force in the students’ lives.”
Execs in Pursuit of 8th Straight KJAC Championship

1994-95 Outlook

"With seven of 11 graduating seniors from last year signing Division I scholarships, this year’s new-comers have a significant void to fill," said Coach Kenny. "But we have good chemistry and some solid returners, we hope to have a very good basketball team.

With our two returning sophomores, the Executives will need to play a key factor in these transition seasons and 80 incoming freshmen. The coaches have embraced a solid mixture of solid talent, including none of the stars from Lavalville.

Lady Execs Ranked #5

Coming off a 34-2 season and a third place finish at the NJCAA national championship tournament held last year in Tyler, Texas, this year’s team from Sullivan College’s Lexington campus has a number five preseason ranking in the nation from College Sports magazine.

The magazine also picks sophomore forward Tora Darden as one of its preseason All-Stars. She also has been listed as an All-America candidate by Street and Smith’s College/Prep Basketball magazine.

The Lady Executives will be playing three of their games in Louisville this season as part of double headers with the men’s team (see schedule at right). Take a break from studying and come out and give your support to these fine athletic teams from Louisville and Lexington.
Clubs Add to Student Life at Sullivan

Attending college is more than just going to class and doing homework. A variety of student clubs and organizations are available to students as a means of becoming more involved in the college experience and helping the community.

In addition to proving opportunities to exchange ideas with fellow students, many of the student organizations conduct a variety of activities from staging bake sales to sponsoring campus wide blood drives, from raising money for worthwhile charities to collecting clothing and food for needy families.

Sullivan clubs/organizations and their sponsors include:

ALPHA SIGMA KAPPA — an honorary business sorority for women; sponsors: Jonna Lilly, Kathy Barrett and Beckie Carlton.

AMERICAN MARKETING ASSOCIATION — Sullivan’s AMA Collegiate Chapter; sponsor: Rita Hall.

BAPTIST STUDENT UNION — an organization designed for all Christians who want to continue their spiritual development while preparing for their career; sponsor: Elizabeth Zalenski.

CULINARY SALON COMPETITION TEAM — members compete in various local, regional and national culinary competitions; sponsors: Chef Spud Rhea and Chef Derek Spendlove.

DANCE TEAM — members perform dance routines at Sullivan basketball games; sponsors: Bridgette Johnson and Katharine Harbison.

DATA PROCESSING MANAGEMENT ASSOCIATION — exposes students to the data processing profession through guest speakers and field trips; sponsor: Ron Booth.

DRAMA CLUB — members meet to discuss drama and other performing arts and participate in outings to local theaters; sponsor: Carol Geis.

FUTURE HOTELIERS OF AMERICA — this organization is designed for Hotel and Restaurant Management students; sponsor: Kerry Sommerville.

PHI BETA LAMBDA — this is the college division of Future Business Leaders of America; sponsor: Carol Geis.

SULLIVAN COLLEGE CHEERLEADERS — these students help create enthusiasm at special school events and at Executive basketball games; sponsors: Rita Hall and Buddy Hoskinson.

SULLIVAN STUDENT PARALEGAL ASSOCIATION — paralegal students are encouraged to develop their leadership and organizational skills through such activities as fund-raisers, field trips and other community activities; sponsor: Nick Riggs.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATION — this group coordinates many of the college’s student activities and special events; sponsor: Brad Tolbert.

SUMMIT CLUB — this organization is designed to help the student who is returning to college after being out of school for an extended period; sponsor: Carol Everhart.

TRAVEL CLUB — while geared primarily for Travel and Tourism majors, this club is open to all who enjoy travel and sampling international cuisine; sponsor: Bettye Smothers.

Take advantage of the opportunity to get involved in worthwhile activities and build your resume’ at the same time. Contact any of the sponsors listed above for more information on how you can join one of these campus organizations.

Sunset in Cozumel

Native dancers perform in the foreground as the cruise ship Ecstasy docks at sunset in the port at Cozumel, Mexico.

Local tours, scuba diving and shopping were all on the agenda for Sullivan College’s Travel and Tourism students during their visit to Mexico.
King's Island

Shrieks and screams were part of the fun in riding the water flume attraction at King's Island during a Sullivan College student trip to the amusement park near Cincinnati this summer.
Take Me Out to the Ballgame

Sullivan faculty, staff and students went out to the ballpark to see the Louisville Redbirds take on the Buffalo Bisons. Not even the threat of rain could dampen this Redbird’s enthusiasm!
College Open House

A WHAS-TV film crew was on campus to videotape commercials that aired on the station’s Saturday morning news during Sullivan College’s Summer Open House.
Summer Picnic

Good friends, good times and good food were all part of the annual college-wide summer picnic at Cherokee Park.
Whether riding the waves or the roller coaster, there was fun and excitement galore for everyone during Sullivan College’s trip to Kentucky Kingdom.
Belle of Louisville Cruise

Sullivan College students, faculty and staff recently enjoyed a day out of classes to participate in the annual cruise aboard the historic steamship, the Belle of Louisville.

The excursion aboard the Belle gives students a chance to get to know each other better, enjoy music and dancing, feast on a lunch prepared by students in the college’s culinary program, and in general, just have a great time!
