SULLIVAN COLLEGE CONFFERS FIRST BACCALAUREATE DEGREES AT MID-YEAR GRADUATION CEREMONIES

1,400 Family & Friends Celebrate

Pride and joy showed on the faces of graduates, their families and friends as the procession made its way through the Alumni Chapel of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary. The ceremony commemorated the completion of programs and the beginning of a bright future for more than 300 Sullivan College graduates. Lieutenant Governor Paul Patton was the commencement speaker, and he challenged the graduates to continue the disciplines which have helped them to succeed.

Two Graduations Each Year!

Held in July for winter and spring quarter graduates and in January for summer and fall quarter graduates, the commencement ceremonies provide an opportunity twice a year for recognition of graduates from the Louisville, Lexington and Fort Knox campuses of Sullivan College. The highlight of the ceremony is the awarding of certificates, diplomas, and degrees by President Copock. This graduation was even more special because Sullivan College granted the first two baccalaureate degrees in the history of the institution. A.R. Sullivan, Chief Executive Officer and Founder of Sullivan College, presented John Casey Dick and Lucinda Seibert Durham with their Bachelor degrees.

President’s Cup Award Winners

Forty-nine students were recognized for outstanding academic achievement with the President’s Cup which is given to those who maintain a 3.7 grade point average on a 4.0 scale. This year’s recipients include: Ellen Kay Beckemeyer, Rhonda Sue Bell, Kim D. Beley, Leslie Kroush Brooks, Jennifer Dawn Burke, Lawrence Wallace Carter, Yvette Denise Chauvins, Lloyd Wayne Derebery, John Casey Dick, Dennis L. Dunn, Lucinda Seibert Durham, Marjorie C. Dunn, John Graham Egerton, Renee Danielle Ewan. (continued on page 2)

COLLEGE ANNOUNCES THIRD PRESIDENT

Dr. G. Stephen Coppock was named President of Sullivan College on November 1. Dr. Coppock replaced the founder of Sullivan College, A. R. Sullivan, who will continue to be Chief Executive Officer of the Sullivan Colleges System. Mr. Sullivan will now be able to devote more time and energy to state and national issues related to private colleges and their students.

Sullivan Colleges System

Coppock will also serve as President of Sullivan Colleges System, which includes: Sullivan College, which has campuses in Louisville, Lexington, and Fort Knox; Spencerian College and the Spencerian College School of Fashion Merchandising and Design in Louisville; and the Louisville Technical Institute. Almost three thousand students are currently enrolled in the colleges which make up the Sullivan Colleges System.

Coppock's Background

President Coppock became a full-time employee of Sullivan College in 1976 after having been an adjunct faculty member for several years. He has served in several positions including Dean of the college, Director of the Louisville campus, and since 1984, Vice President of the Sullivan Colleges System. The same year, he was instrumental in the decision to open a branch of Sullivan College in Lexington.

President G. Stephen Coppock addresses graduates and guests at recent ceremony.

Mr. Tom Davisson, College Vice President and Director of the Louisville campus, said, "I do not believe a better choice could have been made. Dr. Coppock has the experience, expertise, and respect of the college community to take our nationally known colleges to a new level of excellence."
Jenny Rebecca Lynch is named Miss Sullivan Colleges System 1992.

Paula Jo Tindle represents Sullivan's Main Campus, and wins Third Runner-up title.

THE 1992 MISS SULLIVAN COLLEGES SYSTEM SCHOLARSHIP PAGEANT IS "UNFORGETTABLE"

Cameras flashed, family and friends cheered, and the instrumental ensemble began to play "Unforgettable" as Jenny Rebecca Lynch received the crown and title of Miss Sullivan Colleges System 1992.

Eleven outstanding young women from the six schools which make up the Sullivan Colleges System competed for more than $4,000 in scholarships and prizes, the title of Miss Sullivan Colleges System 1992, and an opportunity to be a participant in the 1992 Miss Kentucky and 1993 Miss America Scholarship Pageants.

Jenny Rebecca Lynch

says, "Winning gave me unbelievable feelings of self-confidence and accomplishment. I've never been about holding the 1992 title of Miss Sullivan Colleges System, and I look forward to the new opportunities of the coming year."

Great Opportunity for Women
The pageant is open to young women who are students at Sullivan College in Louisville, Lexington, and Fort Knox, Spencertown College's Main Campus and School of Fashion Merchandising and Design; and the Louisville Technical Institute. A part of the Miss America Scholarship Program, the Miss Sullivan Colleges System Scholarship Pageant is a part of the largest scholarship program for women in the world. Last year, more than $5 million in scholarships were awarded to participants at local, state, and national competitions.

Terrific Contestants
The diverse group of contestants ranged in age 18 to 23 and possessed a variety of talents including singing, dancing, gymnastics, drama, interior design, instrumental skills, and martial arts. In addition to competing in talent, swimsuit, and evening gown competitions, each contestant was interviewed by the five pageant judges.

Main Campus Representation
Paula Jo Tindle, a student who is pursuing a baccalaureate degree at Sullivan was chosen Third Runner-Up. A Taylorville, Kentucky, native, she is the daughter of Paul and Evelyn Tindle and a 1986 graduate of Spencer County High School.

Special Guests
Sheri Plambeck, Miss Kentucky 1991, shared one of her experiences with the pageant program, and Shana Bryan, Miss Louisville 1991, shared an acclaimed vocal selection. The judges included: Barbara Hagedorn, the Executive Director of the Miss Louisville Scholarship Pageant; Lacey Smith, former state Senator and local businessperson and restaurateur; Linda Walker, Director of Marketing for the Louisville Ballet; Mike Thompson, Executive Director of the Miss Sandy Valley Scholarship Pageant; and Dr. Brenda Kee, Associate Professor of Music for the University of Louisville's School of Music.

Great Job, Contestants!
According to Dr. G. Stephen Cappock, President of Sullivan Colleges System, "The 1992 Miss Sullivan Colleges System Scholarship Pageant was a great success because of the outstanding young women who participated in the program. I was impressed with all our contestants, and I'm excited that Jenny Lynch will represent our colleges in the Miss Kentucky Scholarship Pageant in June." Congratulations ladies!
HIGHWAY CONSTRUCTION WILL BENEFIT COLLEGE

The dirt moves, the blasts occur daily, and the never-ending saga of the widening of the Watterson Expressway continues month after month, year after year. It seems like this major widening of the interstate highway in front of Sullivan College's main campus will never end. But according to information received from the State Highway Department, the Bardstown Road interchange will be completed by late fall of 1992.

Exciting Developments

You may wonder how this is going to affect Sullivan College. You'll notice in the map below that Sullivan College will be receiving a brand new entrance to the college campus. This three-lane entrance with one entering lane and two exiting lanes will go directly across to match the Gardiner Lane-Bardstown Road interchange. The entrance that the college students currently use to the campus will now become the entrance to Farmington. The most wonderful thing will be that there will be a stoplight for exiting and entering the college campus. In addition to this, it's quite possible the college may be able to obtain from the state an additional two plus acres to expand college parking. This area is noted on the map. The college had indicated its interest in purchasing this and the state has indicated that once the interchange is completed that land may be declared surplus and available for addition to the campus. This could add anywhere between 75 to 100 additional parking spots which would relieve some of the pressure on parking that has occurred in past years.

Easy Access

We thought everybody would want to know about this exciting development that "suicide corner" (see page 8) will no longer exist when you currently take your life in your hands trying to turn left or right on Bardstown Road.

So be patient as you watch the dirt move and the continuing construction. There will soon be a wonderful new entrance to Sullivan College.
Jodi Newby enjoys a day of skiing at Paoli Peaks with other brave Sullivan students.

Ski Trip is Part of Winter Fun for Sullivan Students

There are always plenty of activities to be involved in at Sullivan College! A favorite winter outing for students is the annual ski trip to Paoli Peaks in Indiana.

More than thirty adventurous souls braved the slopes, and although there were lots of thrills and spills, there were no broken arms and legs!

Director of Student Services, Buddy Hoskinson, said, “Everyone had a terrific time; it was a great day for skiing. Conditions were excellent, and the first-timers are hooked... they plan to return to the slopes as soon as possible.”
New Queen to be Chosen

The 1992 Homecoming Celebration is just around the corner. A list of 20 nominees for Homecoming Queen has been narrowed to 9 finalists. One of these young ladies will be the winner announced at half-time at the annual Homecoming game.

Masquerade Ball to Follow

“The Masquerade Ball” is the theme for the Homecoming Dance. Mobile Disc Jockey will be playing and NuWave Photography will be taking photos.

Week-Long Festivities

Homecoming is one of the most exciting events of the year with special activities all week long. The festivities lead up to the Homecoming celebration on Saturday, February 22.

According to Sandy Hayden, Director of Housing and Activities, “We are looking forward to a terrific celebration and encourage everyone to participate.”

Faculty Focus: Ron Booth

Recently for the Christmas door decoration competition, the "most original" prize went to the door with a snowman. The students adorned the snowman's face with a picture of none other than their computer instructor, Ron Booth. "He's not as jolly as Santa," a student said. "We really had him blushing when we decorated the door."

A Hit with His Students

In fact, Ron Booth is not known for levity. He takes seriously his job and his responsibilities to his students. He does have a sense of humor, though. "It's a dry sense of humor," one of his students says. Sometimes "he tries to get out of the dry sense of humor - it doesn't always work." But one thing all of the students seem to agree on is Ron's concern for the students and his academic integrity. "He knows his stuff," one student says. "He covers material very thoroughly," another adds.

For Ron, too, the student is what teaching is all about. "It's always nice to see the glimmer in their eyes when a student gets what you're teaching," he says. Nurturing that spark is what motivates Ron, who teaches Information Processing, COBOL, and D-Base III. He enjoys teaching at Sullivan in large part because of the "Ability to do one on one teaching" that his computer classes afford him.

A Louisville Native

Ron was born and raised in Louisville. After graduating from St. Vincent DePaul Elementary School, entered the seminary. He ultimately received his B.A. in Divinity from St. Mary's Seminary. But fortunately, for us, he did not get ordained. The priesthood's loss was Sullivan's gain.

Ron finally entered the world of business and became interested in computers. He received his Computer Programming Certificate in 1969, programmed computers for the University of Louisville, then began working part-time for Sullivan in 1978, and went full-time in 1980.

DPMA Sponsor

In addition to his classes, Ron is the faculty advisor for Data Processing Management Association (DPMA), a club made up mostly of computer majors who "keep abreast of new developments in the computer industry," through guest speakers, field trips, and other activities.

Since both of his children have left the nest, Ron has just remodeled his house so there is "a people area and a dog area." He hopes to pursue his interest in dog breeding, beginning with two of his own Boston terriers. If he succeeds with his dogs as he does with his students, we can be assured Ron Booth will soon have blue-ribbon terriers! Sullivan College is fortunate to have such fine instructors.
Fred Newby serves as acting dean of baccalaureate program

Fred Newby, the acting Dean of the Baccalaureate program, has spent a good portion of his life involved in higher education. A native of Cumberland County, Kentucky, he attended Lindsey Wilson College, Western Kentucky University, and the College of Air Force Systems. Before deciding to attend Nova University in Ft. Lauderdale, Florida, to obtain a Ph.D., Newby earned an M.A. in Human Resource Management from Webster University and an M.S. in Production and Operations Management from the University of Arkansas. He will receive his Doctorate in Business Administration within the next eighteen months.

Program Continues to Grow!
The new baccalaureate program already has had 150 students enroll in courses which will lead to degrees in Marketing, Management, Accounting, or Computer Programming. According to Newby, "More and more four-year students are coming in now: returnees, new ones, and students from satellite, two-year programs, like Ivy Tech of Jefferson Community College." Two of the reasons for the success of the program thus far, according to Newby, are Sullivan’s acceptance of other colleges’ credit and the personalized attention students receive here. His daily duties include evaluating transcripts, talking to potential students, and recruiting additional Ph.D.’s to meet Southern Association of Colleges and Schools (SACS) requirements.

Newby Loves Helping Students!
Newby says the best aspect of his job is dealing with students, something he loves, saying, "I feel like I'm making a difference by helping students to reach their goals."
One of the most interesting and helpful aspects of Sullivan College is the four-day class week. Four days each week classes are in session, and on Friday, the magic happens!

Friday for You

When Fridays come around, faculty members are available, laboratories are open, equipment is turned on and ready to go, but there are no classes scheduled. Each student has faculty available to assist in whatever way is most helpful. Students may benefit from using Fridays for make up work, catch up work, or getting ahead work.

So...if you need to make up, catch up, or speed up, see your teachers on Wednesday or Thursday to set up a special tutorial session for the next Friday. Make Fridays work for you!
Sullivan students now have instant access to publications all over the world.

LEXIS/NEXIS, CD-ROM ARE NEW ADDITIONS TO SULLIVAN'S LIBRARY

Where can 350 magazines plus a similar number of newspapers containing 220,000,000 pieces of information condensed to the size of a computer terminal be found? Where can you also find CD-ROM discs which include fully illustrated encyclopedias; countries of the world; an American atlas; a reference disc with a dictionary, thesaurus, and other writing tools; a nutrition planner, and several other general interest discs?

Where can you find a computer system like this which also adds up to 400,000 items of information each day?

The answer is the Lexis/Nexis system in the Sullivan College library under the direction of Librarian Jen Peach.

Now a Part of the Curriculum!

The system is now in wide use by a number of departments,” says Ms. Peach. “Many classes have had training sessions, and beginning this quarter all College Success Skills classes will have training as part of their curriculum.”

Ms. Peach and her staff conduct scheduled appointments each Friday for students interested in learning the modern system soon to be incorporated in major libraries across the country.

Students then schedule blocks of time for research projects. “It’s great,” says one student. “I used to have to work very hard to find a few sources for my projects. Now I press a button and I’ve got 400-500 sources to choose from. My task has become choosing information, not finding it.”

Accessible to Students

The Lexis program is for paralegal students and the Nexis program is for the general population. Selected law offices in the city have the Lexis program in place, but the usage cost to them is $5 per minute.

“It’s no extra charge for our students at Sullivan College to use the system,” says Ms. Peach. “We consider it part of the program, and we’re happy to make it available.”

The Sullivan College Executives continue their tradition of winning on the basketball court, much to the chagrin of their opponents. With an impressive 23-3 record, Sullivan has earned a new school record of 18 wins. Highlighting this string of victories were wins over John A. Logan, Hiwassee College, and Wabash Valley College. Also, the Executives won the Sullivan Invitational and raced to an unblemished 6-0 record in conference play.

Outstanding Players
Spearheading the balanced attack are sophomores Gary Robb, Cyphesus Bunton, and Darrin Jaquess. Gary Robb leads the team with a 21.7 point scoring average and also leads the team in rebounding, tallying 8.9 per ballgame. He is second in assists for the team as well. Cyphesus Bunton adds defensive prowess to the Executives both inside on bigger players as well as being quick enough to step out and ground smaller men. He leads the team in blocks and pulls down 8.5 rebounds per game. Darrin Jaquess is quick and adds to the arsenal rebounding and scoring abilities.

Craig McCoy brings a deadly 3-point shooting threat to the Executives as well as outstanding free throw shooting abilities. Gary Valentine, another good shooter and ballhandler, leads the team in assists with 5.1 per game. John Galyon applies great defensive pressure to opponents while directing the Sullivan offense as well. Darrell Bowman has also contributed significantly with interior defense and rebounding.

Sullivan added another dimension to its game when Maurice Morris became eligible to play recently. Maurice led Fairdale High School to two consecutive state championships and is the school's all-time leading scorer and rebounder as well as the all-time leader in assists. Presently, Maurice is second in scoring, with a 20.2 average.

Coaches are Interested
This wide array of talent is evidenced by the number of Division I coaches who frequent Sullivan games. It is common to see ten to fifteen Division I coaches in attendance. These coaches along with most of the general public agree that Sullivan will be a tough team to beat at the Region Tournament which will be held in Dyersburg, Tennessee, March 2-7.

18-IN-A-ROW!
In an exciting victory, the Sullivan "Executives" beat Sinclair Community College, setting a new Sullivan College record of 18 consecutive victories!

Gary Robb scored 33 points as Sullivan College (23-3), ranked 23 in the National Junior College Athletic Association poll, beat Sinclair at Seneca High School.

Sinclair, of Dayton, Ohio, grabbed a 10-3 lead, but the game was tied at 34 at halftime.

Sullivan took a 47-40 lead with 15:18 left and never again trailed.

Faculty/Staff vs. Student Game is Big Hit with Fans

The Faculty/Staff vs. Student ballgame an exciting and humorous time for fans. Before the game started, players and cheerleaders helped to get the crowd wound up.

Playing and Cheering

The action was intense as the "old-timers" faced off with the "young and restless." At halftime, the faculty/staff cheerleading squad took to the floor to perform death-defying feats of skill, daring, and grace (well, maybe one of the three, at least).

A Good Time!

This annual event is a popular one with all members of the campus community and is good for a few laughs. Just for the record, the faculty and staff team won 67-41. Still, the score is never as important as the college spirit of which everyone becomes a part!

Nick "Garth" Riggs a faculty/staff cheerleader dazzles (?) the audience at halftime.
Head Coach Dave Skinner Reaches Milestone Victory

The 1991-92 chapter of Coach Dave Skinner's storybook career has reached another plateau. On December 9, 1991 Coach Skinner obtained his 300th victory with an impressive 107-67 win over Lincoln Trail College. This is an average of 22 wins per season, which is quite a feat considering the season consists of 30 games. His 300 wins include 1980 NLCAA National Championship, KJCAC State Championships in 1983, 1986, 1988, 1989, 1990, and 1991, and 3 trips to the NJCAA Region 7 Finals.

An Inspiration to Players
In his 13 years of college coaching, Dave Skinner has guided many young men not only to receive their Associate Degrees, but also to continue their athletic and academic careers at four year institutions. His philosophy is to be "overachievers, not only on the court, but in the classroom and the community as well." This is evident by his highly successful graduation rate, not to mention his career record of 312 wins to date to only 139 losses.

Championship Results
In addition to his 1980 NLCAA Championship team his 1989 squad finished with a 31-4 mark and was ranked 17th in the final NJCAA National Polls. This year's team was ranked 23rd nationally in The Sporting News Pre-Season Polls.

All of Sullivan College would like to congratulate Coach Skinner on his milestone victory. Also, the faculty, fans, and players would like to thank him for all of his contributions and dedicated efforts to the Sullivan College basketball program.

National Center Offers Hands-On Learning in a Variety of Settings

One of the best features at the National Center for Hospitality Studies is the chance to work with outstanding instructors and the opportunity to learn by participation.

Exceptional Opportunities

Classes are designed to enable students to develop skills while working in state-of-the-art labs with the best equipment available. Sullivan's retail outlet, The Bakery, gives students the chance to work in a retail environment, and patrons of the Louisville area are pleased to be able to watch students work and to purchase their products.

Catering events, working on special projects, preparing for national competitions, and working in area businesses also give Sullivan students an extra advantage.

THE CAMBERLEY-BROWN CONNECTION

A wonderful employment opportunity is developing with the Camberley group which operates Louisville's outstanding Brown Hotel. Last year, Shirley Rafferty, then a Sullivan student, obtained a position as a Concierge trainee at the hotel. After her graduation, Shirley has since moved to her new position as Assistant Manager of the hotel. John Collier, a graduate of Sullivan's Baking and Pastry Arts Program, has been appointed Pastry Chef for the hotel with Nikki Rose as Assistant Pastry Chef. Jennifer Burke, a 1991 Hotel/Restaurant Management graduate, is Front Desk Supervisor. Current Sullivan students employed by the Camberley-Brown include John Lowe as a Guest Service Agent, Margie Comeaux as a PBX Operator, and John Treouscotts in Hotel Security.

Pleased with Grads

According to Sherry Klein, Graduate Employment Specialist, "The Brown Hotel is pleased with our students and our graduates because they are well-trained, qualified individuals. With the National Center for Hospitality Studies' growing reputation, The Brown Hotel and other major businesses are anxious to get our graduates."

Steven Cole, Front Office Manager for the Brown, commented, "Sullivan students are well-trained and interested individuals who tend to be long-term employees for us."

This connection is giving current students opportunities for work experience and Sullivan graduates career opportunities. The college is pleased with the relationship with this well-known hotel group and is excited to be able to provide such connections for students.
