College Prepares for Big Fall Freshman Class

As the summer quarter wraps up at Sullivan College, the Herald staff congratulates the graduating diploma and associate degree students. While some faculty and students head off on a Florida vacation, or a Caribbean cruise with the Travel Club, and others just enjoy their two and one-half week quarter break, the college staff is hard at work preparing for the large new freshmen classes to enter Sullivan’s main Louisville campus, Lexington branch campus, and Ft. Knox extension.

Renovation Nears Completion

As indicated in another story, the construction is almost complete on Sullivan’s new National Center for Hospitality Studies, but in addition to that, our financial aid office has a new home with more than twice the space to serve our students. The College Registrar will be moving soon to new offices formerly occupied by financial aid and four additional new classrooms will be opened to all students with the beginning of the fall term.

The schedule below gives the start dates for Freshmen and returning students. New Freshmen are encouraged to watch their mail for exact registration dates. A calendar of the remainder of the quarter’s activities including the fall/winter break is included on page three of this issue. Good luck graduates, welcome new Freshmen to Sullivan College!
Sullivan's National Center Opens With “Sizzle”!!

As was reported in the last issue of the Herald, Sullivan College has developed a new National Center for Hospitality Studies composed of a Culinary Arts division, Hotel/Restaurant Management program, and Travel & Tourism associate degree majors.

Construction has been underway at a feverish pace since early summer to build the first of five training kitchens for the new Culinary Arts students to enter Sullivan College this fall. Under the direction of Professor Emmett Hodgkins and Executive Chef Thomas Hickey, the first kitchen was completed on Saturday, August 1, 1987.

Leading Chefs on Campus

On Monday, August 3, 1987, with the paint barely dry and the stoves barely turned on, Sullivan's National Center for Hospitality Studies played host to a major video production sponsored by the National Frozen Food Association. Five of the country's leading chefs, who are members of the Society for American Cuisine, were brought to Louisville by producer Phillip Cooke to show food service industry personnel the proper uses of frozen food in food production. Those participating were Chef Marcel Desaulniers, Executive Chef/Owner of the Trellis Restaurant in Williamsburg, Virginia; Chef Michael Foley, Owner of Printer's Row Restaurant in Chicago; Chef Richard Perry, Owner of the Richard Perry Restaurant in St. Louis; Chef Allen Zeman, Executive Chef at the Tucson Country Club in Tucson, Arizona; and Chef Louis Osteen, Chef/Owner of the Pauleys Island Inn in South Carolina.

Sullivan Chef Assists

Sullivan Culinary Arts Department Chairman Thomas Hickey, Sr. assisted the chefs and the production staff in putting together the food prepared for the chefs to demonstrate. Also on hand was Sarah Fritscher, food editor of the Courier-Journal and several staff photographers from the Courier who interviewed each of these famous chefs for feature stories.

While all of this was going on, electricians, painters, and others continued to work on the new bakery and a la carte kitchens adjacent to the main production kitchen now almost complete. Sullivan College is investing almost a half million dollars in new facilities and equipment in preparation for this national activity.

Still More!

In addition to these two major projects, renovations were completed to move the financial aid office into a larger office to accommodate and increase staff and to better serve students who need financial assistance to complete their studies at the College.
Mazzoli Draws Large Crowd to Campus

Congressman Romano Mazzoli conducted a neighborhood forum recently on the Sullivan Campus. Approximately 150 gathered to hear the Congressman address local issues, answer questions, and deal with complaints. "The open forum is an approach Congressman Mazzoli uses to become closer to the needs and concerns of the neighboring area," according to Sandy Hayden, Student Life Coordinator who coordinated the Congressman's visit.

Democratic Congressman Romano Mazzoli addresses constituents at campus forum.

The exchange between constituents and the Congressman was the first of four forums Mazzoli had scheduled for August. The three-hour forum began with The Pledge of Allegiance and continued until the Congressman shook hands with the last person in the crowd. Democrat Mazzoli has represented the 3rd District for nearly 18 years.
Mayor Abramson Challenges Grads at Summer Graduation

Over 1200 Sullivan graduates, family members, and friends gathered at the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary recently for Sullivan College's summer commencement exercises. Louisville Mayor Jerry Abramson urged the graduates to look at the completion of their educational programs at Sullivan as a beginning to build on throughout the rest of their lives. Mayor Abramson also spoke of the opportunities available in the community and urged the Louisville graduates to consider staying in the area to assist with this economic growth.

Two Graduations

The summer commencement was one of two held each year to honor the graduates of the Louisville and Lexington campuses of Sullivan Junior College. The ceremonies began with an impressive organ solo by Dr. Boyd Jones of the Southern Seminary. The highlight, as always, was the awarding of the certificates, diplomas, and degrees by President A. R. Sullivan. Special recognition went to 42 Sullivan students who received the prestigious President's Cup for academic achievement. Those receiving the President's Cup must maintain a 3.7 (out of a 4.0) grade point average for their entire program. This year's recipients included: Dorothy Jean Adams, Jamie Jo Ash, Mary Jane Bailey, Amanda A. Bradley, Kimberly Gail Bruner, William H. Cassady, Michele Renae Collins, Annette Michelle Corbin, Bernadette Maria Dickinson, Lynn J. Duff, Linda Burton Duvall, Mark Jonathan Eddy, Karen Marie Harrett, Debra J. Hembrey, Carla Rae Hocker, Lisa Margaret Howard, Theresa A. Hughes, Sherry Lynn Jaggers, Terri Jene Jarett, Yolanda Judd, Denise Loraine Klementz, Michelle Lamb, Wayne Allan Lockwood, Carla Jo Martin, Cheryl Ann Nash, Claudia B. Neal, Patrick A. O'Bryan, Tijuana J. O'Connell, Maria Magdalena Pelto, Sherry Ann Rapp, Barbara Jean Rhea, Julie Lynn Richardson, Michael Leigh Rickert, Deborah Kay Rickel, Jerry M. Rivers, Jr., Jacquelyn Rae Rogers, Karen Sanders, Christie Irene Smith, Cindy Clay Snyder, William R. Spontak, Paula Ann Thomas and Denise Ann Yann.

Special thanks go to Student Life Coordinator Sandy Hayden and Registrar Byron Wunderlich for their hard work in coordinating this summer's graduation activities. Sullivan's next graduation ceremonies will be held in January, 1988. We invite all students, faculty, and staff to join us for this most important event.
DPMA Plans For Fall Quarter

Data Processing Management Association had Jack Kelly from the senior DPMA chapter speak at a recent meeting. Mr. Kelly spoke on the advantages of DPMA and why student chapters were formed. Plans are now underway for another busy quarter. Congratulations to newly elected officers: President, Nancy Ferguson; Vice-President, Susan Ruelas; Secretary, Dawn Nowicke; Treasurer, Pam Stice; Program Chairperson, Sheila Flanders; Awards, Janice Noe; Membership, Donald Elmore; Publicity, Vicki Banta.
Student Board Plans Schoolwide “Belle of Louisville” River Cruise

The first activity of the new quarter is a tradition of Sullivan College. On Wednesday, Sept. 30, all students will be dismissed from class and at approximately 10:00 a.m. board Louisville’s fantastic Belle of Louisville for a “get acquainted” cruise up the Ohio River with music and food provided free of charge to all the students attending. This event has traditionally proven one of the highlights of the year. No dates, husbands, wives, or children are allowed and the day is scheduled to end before the regular school day is out at 2:40 p.m. This is a wonderful opportunity for new students to meet each other and to also meet the returning upperclassmen. Everybody should make plans to attend this exciting event. Mark it on your calendars. Watch the weekly newsletters for further detail.

B.S.U. Sponsors World Hunger Day

The Baptist Student Union is a small but vital organization to Sullivan Junior College. The BSU is led by campus minister David Gregory. A video entitled "Give Us This Day," which exposed the problem of hunger around the world and in the United States, preceded World Hunger Day. Money was raised for a relief project in Kenya. Other videos of different topics ranging from "Building Your Self-Esteem" to "Memorizing the Word of God" were shown during the quarter. BSU meetings are held each Thursday morning.
Alpha Iota Continues To Serve the Community

Alpha Iota members were indeed busy again this quarter with rush, initiation, and election of new officers. New officers include: President, Kamala Garten; Vice-President, Paula Tindle and Secretary/Treasurer, Margie Butler.

“Exploited Children’s Awareness Day” sponsored by the Meredith-Dunn Learning Center was one community activity Alpha Iota members participated in. Balloons with pictures of missing children were released. Also, “Hands Across the Water” sponsored by the Dream Factory was led by Alpha Iota members. Contributions of $330 were raised, and Alpha Iota was the largest donating student group. As a reward, members were treated to a pizza party for their hard work and effort.

Alpha Iota is an honorary business sorority for women with high scholastic achievement. The purpose of Alpha Iota is to make each member a better business woman through development of self-confidence, leadership, and awareness of responsibility to herself and to her community. Denise Galkin is faculty sponsor for Alpha Iota.

Alpha Iota member Lisa Boyce participated in Exploited Children’s Awareness Day.
“Summit” Welcomes Mature Students

“Plans are underway for the fall quarter,” according to Debbie Cary, president of the Summit. “Members are preparing for the welcoming of incoming freshmen.” The Summit is designed for the non-traditional student - those who have been out of school for at least 5 years. Time management and assertiveness are two topics covered through guest speakers. Meetings are held on Wednesdays.
A very active and involved organization is Phi Beta Lambda, the College continuation of the high school Future Business Leaders of America. It is designed to develop competent, aggressive leadership, to create interest in business, and to facilitate the transition from college to job market. If you would like to become a member of this growing and active group, contact Mrs. Geis or Mr. Seifert or one of the following PBL officers: President, Angelia Hayes; Vice-President, Star Wilhite; Treasurer, Tracy Potts; Reporter, Stephanie Dawson; Committee Chairperson, Barbara Drury.
Sullivan’s Travel Club Travels World-Wide!!

Over the past several quarters, our Travel Club has been very busy. At the end of the spring quarter, 34 Sullivan College students, faculty members and relatives visited Washington, DC, and it was a first-time flying experience for many. This weekend experience was an exciting event since many had never been to Washington previously.

If you happen to notice a Sullivan student wandering the halls with a University of Amsterdam sweatshirt, or perhaps one from the Sorbonne in Paris, Sullivan College has not started an international exchange program — you’re looking at a student that participated in the Travel Club’s trip to Europe over quarter break in June.

Western Europe Visited

For the third time in the past six years the Travel Club took a tour of Western Europe over quarter break. “Our itinerary was designed to give the first time European traveler the maximum exposure to the culture, points of interest and major cities in a two week time period,” said Stephen Holman, Travel Department Chairman, who escorted the group. In all, eight countries and four major world capitals were visited. The memories of the special dinners and strange bathrooms won’t soon be forgotten! Everyone who went agreed that it was the best quarter break ever!

All Students Invited

Although the Travel Club is specifically designed and organized to give Travel & Tourism majors experience in planning trips and participating in these activities, all college students and faculty are invited to participate on these trips. Please check the bulletin boards and this newspaper for additional information about Sullivan Travel Majors’ worldwide activities.

Summer Memories Include Picnic and Kings Island

Two of the most popular summer activities were Kings Island and the Summer Picnic.

Kings Island is an annual event that is looked forward to and talked about long after. Over 300 students, faculty, and staff participated this year. Joining the Sullivan students were Louisville Tech and Sullivan-Lexington. Each year the trip gets bigger and better.

Rain threatened to dampen the get-acquainted summer picnic. The sky cleared and 275 gathered at George Rogers Clark Park for volleyball, softball, basketball, and fun... then there was the “pie eating” contest. Entering the contest were: Missy Edwards, Lynnette Ashby, Keith Williams, Michael Cawthorn, Peggy McNulty, Annette King and Linda Schnebelt.

Within a matter of minutes, cream pie was in the face of all contestants including Student Life Coordinator Sandy Hayden. “This is a good time to get together and meet other students,” said Michael Cawthorn, a first quarter Marketing student.

A special thanks to Don Metry and his staff for the great food that was enjoyed by everyone.
College Prepares for National Accreditation Review

Sullivan College will host a visiting team from the accrediting commission of the Association of Independent Colleges and Schools sometime early in 1988. The visit will be the usual 6-year follow-up for reaccreditation by the Commission.

Two Accreditations
The Association of Independent Colleges and Schools is the national accrediting body for over 1250 two- and four-year career colleges in the United States. The accreditation by AICS is one of two held by Sullivan College. The other accreditation is through the Commission of Colleges of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools, the regional accrediting agency for the eleven southeastern states.

Self-Study Process
Between now and the time the visiting team arrives on campus, the College will be involved in an extensive self-study process which will require input of all members of the College community — faculty, students, and staff. Don't be surprised if you're asked to participate in some part of the self-study process. Your input will be extremely valuable in keeping Sullivan Junior College on top of the business education world.
Students line up on bridge for “Hands Across the Water.”

Sullivan Students Join “Hands” To Help Children

Students, faculty and staff participated in Hands Across the Water, an event designed to raise funds in support of the Dream Factory. The Dream Factory is an organization dedicated to answering the special dreams of critically or seriously ill children. A two-mile human chain, with each participant wearing a bright yellow t-shirt, began at Louisville City Hall across the Clark Memorial Bridge to the Jeffersonville, Indiana, City Hall.

Each student group was challenged to raise funds. Alpha Iota was the largest contributing group with $330. During the August 1st “handlocking,” students talked with Mayor Jerry Abramson, Louisville football coach Howard Schnellenberger and several were interviewed by local television stations.

Stephanie Dawson, a first quarter Business Administration major, said “being able to help the children makes all the hard work in raising money worthwhile. The actual ‘handlocking’ was fun,” she added.
Paralegal Program on the Move

The Institute for Paralegal Studies has seen several changes since Nicholas Riggs became Program Coordinator in March 1987. Many of the developments have given the Paralegal Program a new look. Some of the major changes are:

- The addition of another full-time instructor, James F. Perkins, previously an adjunct faculty member, was appointed to full-time faculty status in June. Mr. Perkins is an attorney and lives in Nelson County. He is teaching four day division classes and one evening division class, which provides added continuity to the Paralegal program.

- The Institute's catalog has been revised to reflect the recent modifications to the Paralegal core curriculum. The most notable change in the curriculum is the addition of a course in Criminal Law. The Administrative Law course will no longer be offered on a regular basis, but specific areas of administrative law will be covered in future Senior Seminars.

- The Advisory Board of the Institute, which works closely with Mr. Riggs in providing guidance to the Paralegal Program, is in the process of being revamped. The revised make-up of the Board will include two student representatives (one from the day division and one from the evening division), an increased number of practicing paralegals, as well as judges, attorneys and at least one faculty member. The Board will also begin meeting on a quarterly basis rather than only twice a year as in the past.

- Definitive requirements have been established for successful completion of the Externship component of the Paralegal curriculum. Each Paralegal student is given the opportunity to obtain "on-the-job" practical experience by working in a law office, corporate legal department or governmental agency for a minimum of 110 hours. To receive credit for the Externship, each student must file two written reports with the Program Coordinator and be evaluated (on a written form provided by the Institute) by the individual who supervises the student’s work during the Externship experience. This dual approach allows the student to analyze and evaluate his/her own performance as well as receive a constructive critique by those for whom the student worked during the Externship.

These and future developments, including anticipated approval by the American Bar Association of the Paralegal Program, should benefit those students who will one day be graduates of the Institute for Paralegal Studies of Sullivan College.

from Jo Frye, Graduate Employment Services Director . . .

Salaries are climbing for our entry level secretary graduates. Due to the heavy market demand, the GES Department does not take job orders from employers who offer less than $5.00 per hour. There are too many companies to choose from who gladly pay that or more for our graduates. We are sorry we can't help these firms, but we are pleased that Sullivan Junior College of Business Secretaries have higher value in the work place.

A Travel & Airline Student . . .

Dear Jo,

Hi! Thank you for your recent update. It's good to know Sullivan cares even after you graduate.

I have been with the same company since graduation. Maritz is a large corporate agency. We handle over 2,000 companies' travel arrangements (Monsanto, Union Electric, Southwest Bell, just to name a few). We have close to 200 employees in our agency. I really enjoy my work.

Thanks to Sullivan and your great placement I am able to work for such a great company.

Thank you,
Jennifer Hall

A Computer Science Student . . .

Dear President Sullivan,

I just wanted to tell you that I have enjoyed my two years at your school. I think Sullivan College is one of the best things going for the city of Louisville. I have certainly learned a great deal at Sullivan. I now have a fine job at the Hampton Inn Hotel on Embassy Square.

The staff at Sullivan have really built my confidence to a high level, and I feel I can accomplish just about anything. I think the staff is just outstanding. Instructors like Calvin Carroll, Andy Azzam, Greg Hardcastle, Richard Ernst, and Ron Booth had the most influence on me. I have enjoyed working with them all, and I would appreciate it if you would tell them that for me. Keep up the good work at your institution.

Once again, I want to thank you for helping me get launched into my career field.

Sincerely,
Mike Bryant

Dear Andy:

I am writing just to share the joy that working with Mr. Zickle, Attorney at Law, has brought me. I am glad that I made up my mind to attend Sullivan. I will try to encourage all high school students to try Sullivan.

Great things happen to those who wait.

It was nice knowing all of you at Sullivan.

Thanks a lot!

Sincerely,
Tonya Parks
New Faculty and Staff Recognized

The Herald Staff would like to recognize four new faculty members. Kenny Siefer, a Sullivan graduate and star member of the basketball team, is an accounting instructor and assistant basketball coach. Recipient of a President's Cup for academic achievement while at Sullivan, Siefer continued his education at Oakland City College where he received a B.S. Degree. Already a very active faculty member, he co-sponsors Phi Beta Lambda and plays on the faculty/staff softball team.

Mike Daniel

Mike Daniel graduated Phi Kappa Phi, has a Masters Degree in Creative Writing from the University of Louisville, and a Bachelors Degree in Journalism. Daniel teaches English, Speech, and Reading. "Reading is not boring" is the emphasis Daniel tries to make to students.

Nancy Gluck

New travel instructor, Nancy Gluck has B.S. from Eastern Kentucky University and an Associate Degree in Travel from Sullivan. The 1983 graduate began teaching part-time in the fall quarter of 1986. "Sullivan is wonderful preparation for working in the real world," says Ms. Gluck. The Cumberland, Kentucky, native enjoys movies, concerts and outside activities.

Chef Thomas Hickey

Joining Sullivan College’s Culinary Arts faculty is Thomas Hickey. Chef Hickey holds nine medals in major national and international culinary competition including four gold medals in American Culinary Federation events. He is a certified executive chef of the American Culinary Federation and a certified chef educator.

Prior to joining Sullivan, Hickey was a chef instructor at Baltimore’s International Culinary Arts Institute. And he has over 20 years of culinary experience in positions throughout the world!

Karen Sheridan

Karen Sheridan joins the financial aid department as assistant director. Ms. Sheridan was previously the Registrar’s assistant at Bellarmine College. She is currently finishing her degree in English and Mass Communication.

Welcome new faculty and staff!! We welcome your enthusiasm and experience.
Approved!!

Sullivan Junior College of Business has been approved for membership in the Educational Division of ASTA, the American Society of Travel Agents!

ASTA has over 20,000 members in over 125 countries representing all facets of international tourism. It is currently the largest professional industry association in the world.

“Our acceptance shows the quality of our curriculum and the experience of our faculty in training future employees for the travel industry,” states Stephen Holman, Chairman of Sullivan College’s Travel and Tourism Department.

“Sullivan’s membership in ASTA will show all future employers of our Travel graduates that they are well trained and ready to be a productive member of their organization. ASTA represents 25,000 future employers of Sullivan graduates,” added Holman.
Kiesler Selected “Teacher of The Year” At Teachers’ Workshop

All full-time faculty of Sullivan Jr. College attended the annual Teachers’ Workshop of Kentucky Association of Career Colleges and Schools (KAACS), July 22-24.

The KAACS conference, held at the Executive Inn Rivermont in Owensboro this year, featured a keynote address, “Philosophies and Concepts for Today’s Career Schools,” by Dr. Joe Pace. Other topics addressed during the two-day workshop included student retention, teaching the adult learner, teacher burn-out, and the qualities of a master teacher. Time was also allotted for teachers to gather by departments and exchange teaching strategies and ideas.

Kiesler Honored

At a noon luncheon the Outstanding Teacher of the Year awards were announced. Dolores Kiesler, an English instructor, received the award for Sullivan Jr. College. Ms. Kiesler began teaching at Sullivan in September 1985.

Many of the book publishers were also present during the workshop, displaying their texts and other resources as well as sponsoring coffee breaks.
Faculty "loosen up" during special seminar recently held on improving teaching performance.

Sullivan Faculty Take Center Stage

Recently, all faculty members from SJC Main, Lexington, Spencerian College, including the Fashion School, and Louisville Tech gathered in Louisville for a seminar entitled "Teaching as a Performing Art". The seminar was presented by Robert L. Burpee. Mr. Burpee has had a varied background including being a professional actor and director for many stage presentations. He was the Theatre Program Director at Lansing Community College in Lansing, Michigan, before going out on his own to be a communication consultant to education, business and government. Mr. Burpee holds a B.S. degree in education from Central Michigan University and is a graduate of the Royal Scottish Academy of Music and Dramatic Art.

Communication - Key

The program began with an overview of the day-long seminar. The objective of the workshop, "Teaching as a Performing Art", is to enhance the communication style and skills of educators so that they are more interesting, poised, persuasive and accurate in their communication with students, staff members and the public.

The workshop was one of the best presented to the faculty. Many of the strategies learned can be put to use immediately in the classroom. It was a long day but one that had a well-presented workshop with usable material. The faculty participated in several exercises from limbering up the body to exercising the vocal cords. This seminar could be the beginning of innovative classroom activities to enhance student learning.
Frelick’s Energy, Enthusiasm, and “English Accent” Make Library Superb!!

Most libraries are places which house academic, cultural, and social information, but the Sullivan library also houses a librarian rich in personal experiences. Ellenor Frelick, librarian since 1980, can light up anyone’s day with her combination of energy, enthusiasm, and English accent. She also brings to Sullivan personal knowledge of numerous cultures and places.

“Many students,” she said, “have a fear of libraries and librarians. I want to enable them to come up to me and feel comfortable. Some are extremely sure and confident and don’t need me,” she added, “and that’s great. I just want to remove the apprehension from the eyes of the ones who aren’t so confident.”

Evaluation Member

Besides her work at Sullivan, Mrs. Frelick has been a part of five evaluation teams for the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools. She has evaluated library facilities at schools in Alabama, North Carolina, Tennessee, and Texas. She finds these experiences time consuming but growth-filled. “There is always something you can learn,” she summarizes. By serving on evaluation teams, Mrs. Frelick feels that she avoids some of the dangers of being in one place too long. “If you don’t go somewhere for re-juicing,” she stated, “you can’t go on professionally.”

_Sullivan Librarian Ellenor Frelick_

In her time away from the formal educational setting, Mrs. Frelick is involved with Hospice of Louisville. Since 1982 she has been a “friend” to either the dying or family members who need support at the time of a death.

A True Inspiration

“For me, it’s ministry,” she says. “I have learned from my hospice people to live intensely and intently and to be a friend.”

For those who enter the Sullivan library or just run into Mrs. Frelick in the halls, few would say she is not living intensely and intently and certainly being a friend to those she meets. Mrs. Frelick brings resources to the Sullivan library that few other people could bring.
Student Activities Capture Sullivan Spirit

"Does this mean I'm not appropriately dressed?"—Jerry L. H., Summer Graduation

Students give the "Gift of Life" at annual Bloodmobile sponsored by Phi Beta Lambda.

"See, I told you I was tall enough," says Mary Riley at Kings Island.

"How low can you go?" Limbo draws great participation at the Student Board Dance.

Students sport T-shirts at Hands Across the Water in support of Dream Factory.

Volleyball was one of the exciting events of the Summer Picnic.

Mary & Michael "show off" muscles after winning pie eating contest at Summer Picnic.

Coed softball — a Summer intramural favorite.

"Squirtin' Salute" was one of many acts at the first annual Talent Show for housing students.
Execs Appear “Loaded”
for 1987-88 Roundball Season

With three players returning from last year’s team, Sullivan coach Dave Skinner is optimistic that the Executives will develop into another championship contender as he prepares to start his 14th season as Sullivan coach.

“Michael Land, 6’6”, Kentucky Junior College All State forward and Paul Huff, 6’4”, All State Honorable Mention guard, are returning starters,” states Coach Skinner. “DeWayne Hogan, 6’2’ guard saw limited action last season but being the good shooter he is will see more playing time.”

Coach Skinner is anticipating another outstanding year. “We are loaded with talent and have a good attitude” says Skinner.

Execs Earn Scholarships To Four-Year Colleges

After two outstanding years for our Executives, Shawn Young, Chris Riley, and Maurice Turner have chosen to continue their education and basketball. Shawn Young, 6'6" center, will attend the University of Tennessee at Martin. Young averaged 10 points and 8 rebounds this past season and was named to the second team all-state.

Chris Riley, 6'2" all-state guard, will be attending Oakland City College in Oakland City, Indiana. Riley, an Indiana native, averaged 15.5 points per game.

Maurice Turner, 5'9" point guard, will attend Milligan College in Johnson City, Tennessee. Turner averaged 10 points per game.

The most valuable player of the Sullivan Invitational Tournament, Terrance Moorman, will also attend Oakland City College in Oakland City, Indiana. Moorman, a 5'9" point guard, transferred from Northern Kentucky University.

The Herald staff would like to commend these young men and wish them continued success.
Intramural Play Continues Into Fall

Traditionally, the fall quarter is a very active one for intramural sports. Intramural basketball and bowling are two of the most popular sports activities.

Intramural sports are not only popular with students but also with faculty and staff. The men’s faculty/staff softball team competes on Sunday evening. They currently are in a post season tournament. “Winning the last six out of seven games has put us in strong contention as tournament favorite,” says star third baseman Alex Moses. “We have been hitting the ball real well and our defense has been outstanding,” he added.

The “Co-Ed Execls” have finished their season with a 5-5 record. “We always played well and it’s fun,” said Margie Crenshaw, third baseman. “Next year, we’ll win it all,” Margie added.

Varied Activities
Watch for details on fall intramural sports in the newsletter. There is always a wide variety of activity and usually something for everyone. If you have an idea for an activity, please contact Sandy Hayden, Student Life Coordinator.
Students Help Open 1987 Pan Am Games

Matthew Stackhouse, Sullivan alumni and General Manager of Tommy Lancaster's catering, needed 65 people to work the opening of the Pan Am Games in Indianapolis. Sullivan students responded in great numbers. So on Saturday, August 8, students helped make the opening of the 10th Pan Am Games a huge success.

Will Johnston stated, “I saw Brent Musberger of CBS sports. It was a long day but very rewarding.” Jeff Wright, a travel student from Indiana, also attended opening ceremonies. “It was incredible to be so near Vice President George Bush, Governor Orr and other city officials. Over 70,000 were at the opening ceremony and it was outstanding,” according to Jeff.
Seifert, Collie Named Assistant Coaches

Joining Coach Skinner this year will be two new assistants, Kenny Seifert and Glenn Collie. Seifert is no stranger to Sullivan. The 1984 graduate was guard on the 1983 team that won the state tournament and the 1984 team that finished 4th in the NLCAA.

Glenn Collie, a very well-known name in Jefferson County, has coached 26 years and posted over 300 wins. Collie was named Coach of the Year in the state of Kentucky. While he was at Valley High School, the team made the finals in the state tournament and won the prestigious Louisville Invitational Tournament.

While at Seneca High school, Collie’s 1984-85 team was ranked #1 in the nation. Two of his former Seneca players are currently playing at the University of Louisville.

“Coach Seifert will be recruiting coordinator. When the season begins, Coach Collie will be handling defense and Coach Seifert will be offensive coordinator,” according to Coach Skinner. With the addition of our two new assistant coaches, returning players and new recruits, the outlook for the 1987-88 season is unparalleled.
Cheerleader Tryouts Scheduled

Following the fall tradition, cheerleading tryouts will be held October 2. The competition is fierce and competitive.

Sullivan began selecting cheerleaders in 1965 and the 1980 squad was selected #1 at the NLCAA tournament.

In addition to practice and games, other activities include sponsoring bake sales and a dress down day. According to Andy Azzam, faculty sponsor, “Sullivan cheerleaders always show enthusiasm and spirit and I’m sure this year’s squad will be no exception. These young ladies work hard to promote participation in college sponsored athletic activities.” If you are interested in trying out for the squad, see Ms. Azzam.
