Picnic Kicks Off Exciting Summer Quarter Activities

The annual summer picnic turned out to be a huge success despite the threatening skies that prevailed during the morning hours. The first Wednesday of the summer quarter, classes were dismissed at 9:30 a.m. as students and faculty made their way to New Buechel Park for this fantastic event.

Activities Abound

As students and faculty began arriving at 10:00 a.m. the softballs, volleyballs, and frisbees began to fly. For the next five hours, no less than 4 softball games would be played. Each game was Co-ed, with high scores providing excitement for everyone.

Volleyball also proved to be very popular. The students warmed up for well over two hours in anticipation of their big match with the faculty. When the dust cleared from the best-of-three series the students had won by a 2-1 margin. The students credited their victory to faculty member Debbie (The Human Statue) Pope and awarded her their Most Valuable Player award.

Food Galore

At mid-day, Good Mack food service provided a lunch in the pavilion. The feast included ham, bologna, salami, baked beans, potato salad, slaw, potato chips, apples and loads of soft drinks. Ted Penn and all the Good Mack employees did a fantastic job in providing this spread.

The rest of the afternoon was exhausted in more softball and volleyball, tennis, frisbees, and just plain ole lying around in the shade.

Graduation Launches Exciting New Careers for Students

Some 400 Sullivan College students completed their career training in time for the June graduation. Those participating in the June 11th ceremony were challenged to excellence by Romano L. Mazzoli, United States Congressman from the 3rd District. Congressman Mazzoli, a 13 year veteran of the House of Representatives, brought greetings from Washington, D.C. to the 1200 plus guests in attendance.

The Congressman challenged the graduates to uphold the ideals and traditions that the United States have evolved around. He also urged the new graduates to uphold the principles of the American Free Enterprise System upon which our nation was founded.

Achievement Recognized

As Dr. Coppage, College Vice-President and Director, read the graduates' names and majors, he also indicated the unusually high level of academic achievement earned by many students. The three Latin phrases Cum Laude (with praise), Magna Cum Laude (with great praise), and Summa Cum Laude (with highest praise) were used for those high achieving grads.

President Sullivan awarded 40 students with the coveted "President's Cup for Academic Achievement"; recipients of this honor must have maintained an overall grade point average of 3.7 on a 4.0 scale.

Academic Pageantry

Each graduate was bedecked in the traditional academic "cap and gown". Faculty also wore their academic regalia with degrees and colleges symbolized by the many colors of the capes. Preceding the procession was a 30 minute organ recital by Dr. Boyd Jones, Jr., a faculty member at the Baptist Seminary. The ceremony was appropriately paced and emphasized the dignity of the achievements and the event.

Two Graduations a Year

Since Sullivan College has students graduating literally every month, two Culinary Arts Graduates Spread "Know-How" World-Wide

The first two students to complete the 36 credit hour Culinary Major at the Fort Knox center of Sullivan College have moved on to other army posts to spread their knowledge.

Walter Klinewich and Homer Dove were in the very first class of Culinary Majors in the fall of 1982. Walter is now in Germany and Homer is at Ft. Benning in Georgia. These men were enthusiastic learners while students at Sullivan and are now eagerly practicing the skills they learned.

At Fort Knox Only

At the present time, the Culinary courses are offered only at the Fort Knox location and are available only to active service personnel and civilians employed in food service positions on the army post. "There is a good future for the program," says program director, Fred Kennedy. "Since everyone seems to like to eat, someone has to teach the art of cooking, nutrition, sanitation, and menu planning. We are excited about the prospects for growth at Fort Knox and the possible expansion of the program to other Army Posts."
Facility, Equipment Expansion Completed

Sullivan Sets the Standards for Word Processing Training

Word Processing, the high-tech approach to office production, continues its expansion at Sullivan both in terms of enrollment and facilities. The surge in enrollment and the completed facilities have thrust Sullivan College to the forefront of Word Processing training.

Enrollment Sets Records

An unprecedented number of new students enrolled in Word Processing this quarter with over 150 students in day and evening classes. These students had to prove above average verbal and keyboarding skills to gain acceptance to the program.

Facilities Completed

The move of the Word Processing department to one of the largest rooms (150) on campus enabled the expansion of equipment to be easily housed. The Wang OIS 140 system, with 32 ports for peripherals, 10 Wang CRT’s, 7 IBM Displaywriters, and 4 printers offer Sullivan students one of the most modern and advanced facilities in the region.

The lab received its final touches over the summer quarter break. With the addition of new carpeting, paint, and major electrical alterations the lab offers students a super environment to learn the sophisticated techniques of Word Processing.

Updated lab offers Sullivan Word Processing students super-spacious facility!
Student Board Elections
Approaching - Super Year Expected

The Sullivan College STUDENT BOARD of DIRECTORS will hold officer elections during the last week of August. The elections will mark the completion of the present officers’ terms. Out-going officers, just completing their two quarter terms, include Chairman Maury Haag, Vice-Chairman Julie Stahl, Secretary - Treasurer Jane Darlage, and Social Chairman Dave Johnson. The Student Board is the primary organization of students designed to coordinate student activities and to act as a communication mechanism between the student body and the College administration.

GET INVOLVED

If you are the type person who really likes to be “where the action is”, the STUDENT BOARD may be just the place for you. Those interested in becoming officers or representatives should attend regularly scheduled meetings each Monday at 2:45. If you want to be part of the fine tradition of Sullivan student activities and if you want to exercise your leadership abilities while building a much stronger resume’, this is your chance. Help make College life more interesting and enjoyable for all Sullivan students - be a part of the STUDENT BOARD.
Bloodmobile Drive Set - Give the “Gift of Life”

Sullivan students and staff will once again demonstrate that most important human characteristic—concern for others—during the upcoming Red Cross Bloodmobile visit to the College.

Student Board Sponsored

The August 30-31 visit will be sponsored by the Student Board of Directors. The Student Board will provide the Red Cross with 8 assistants during the two-day drive. To be qualified to assist, the students will undergo 4 hours of training at the regional Red Cross Center. The students will be responsible for all promotional activities, and for signing up donors.

“Goal”

The goal for the two-day campaign is 70 pints of blood. Each day over 50 donors will be processed to ensure that the goal is reached. In appreciation for their efforts, the Student Board will receive a special letter from the Red Cross commending them for their work. We add our thanks to those who will take the time to give the “gift of life”.
Students Invade Kings Island... Conquer the “Beast” and the “Bat”

It all started four years ago when sixty-five Sullivan students, led by Professor George Winfree, embarked upon the first trip to the Kings Island amusement extravaganza north of Cincinnati. Today, that tradition still lives on.

Thrills Abound

The annual trip to Kings Island proved once again to be popular as well over 150 faculty, staff and students invaded the land of enchantment. Only moments after arrival, the students separated and became engulfed in a maze of machinery. The group challenged the best the park could offer. The Bat, the Beast, and the Screaming Demon provided the greatest thrills. After braving the fast-moving twists and turns of these roller coasters, the group then turned to the popular “shows”. A few stops at one of the many food and beverage stands concluded a super day.

At the end of the day, everyone seemed exhausted from all the excitement of the day. The big “Green Machine” picked the students up at 9:00 and drove them back to home base, Sullivan College. As the bus rolled into Louisville, everyone said that the trip was one that they could never forget!
Activities Focus Around Student Organizations

The Summer ’83 Quarter is filled with these activities and more as the many student groups on campus continue to provide that “extra” element of college living and learning.

Five Student Groups

With a wide array of organizations every students’ needs and likes are easily met. The STUDENT BOARD provides an opportunity to develop leadership while serving the best interests of the entire student body. Various activities such as tutoring, dances, and car washes are commonplace. The DATA PROCESSING MANAGEMENT ASSOCIATION allows Computer Science majors to expand their knowledge through frequent seminars and field trips. ALPHA IOTA, an honorary sorority for women, serves the community through various civic activities while recognizing its members for their high scholastic achievement. PHI BETA LAMBDA, Sullivan College’s chapter of Future Business Leaders of America, has developed a continuing program of seminars conducted by leading professionals in different areas of business. They have also sponsored a dance and a dress-down day. The BAPTIST STUDENT UNION meets regularly every Wednesday and provides spiritual guidance and support to its members.

Yes, there is something for everyone at Sullivan Junior College. The students who participate in the organizations and their activities will attest to that. The time is right to get involved. Join the organizations of your choice TODAY.
Over 100 Families Participate

"Senior Week" Showcases College Facilities, Curriculum for '84 Grads

Sullivan College was recently the scene of an annual happening with the first of two special Summer Visitation weeks for next year's 1984 high school graduates.

The first Senior Week, July 11-16, recently concluded with huge success. Over 100 families participated as prospective 1984 high school graduates received tours and information on course curriculum.

"Senior Week is designed to give the high school graduate and their family a first-hand look at the College and what we have to offer," says Vice President of Admissions J.J. Volz. "The time to make a college selection is now. We make that decision easier by conducting Senior Week."

The next Senior Week for 1984 seniors will take place August 15-20. Tell a friend today!

England to Have Another "King"

by Dean David Higley

Sullivan College student Suzy Ann King, an Administrative Assistant major from Georgetown, Indiana, will be spending a rather interesting Fall Quarter this year. Suzy will be the first student from the College to attend the Oxford and County Secretarial College in Oxford, England. Sullivan College was selected as one of only ten schools in America to send students for this "study abroad" program. Her course will concentrate on advanced secretarial and business studies as well as providing Suzy with an opportunity to live in an English "flat", or apartment, with other students attending the Oxford school.

Not All Work

All the time spent in England will not be spent in hard work. One day each week will be devoted to touring such historic sights as Windsor Castle, Stratford-upon-Avon, and the House of Parliament. In addition, Suzy will have week-ends free to travel throughout England and Europe. All in all, the trip offers her the chance to experience first-hand the excitement of international business and travel.

"This is an opportunity I could not pass up," says Suzy about her upcoming trip. "The travel opportunities on top of the excellent educational benefits should make for a fantastic time."

We wish her the best in her international adventure!
College Recognizes Dedicated Service:

270 Years—And Going Strong!

When the fall term at Sullivan College begins this September, the College will greet over 1800 day and evening school students who have chosen Sullivan for their career education. It takes a large, experienced faculty and staff to assist and teach each of these students. The Sullivan Herald is proud to recognize the long service of several of our Sullivan College faculty and staff. These eleven individuals have a fantastic record of over 175 years of service to Sullivan College, dating from 1962. Each individual has been with Sullivan College a minimum of ten years. Five of these outstanding educators have been with Sullivan College over 15 years.

20th Anniversary

President A.R. Sullivan has been with the College since its modern founding in 1962, and faculty member Evelyn Reynolds celebrates her 20th anniversary with the school this August. Executive Vice-President Harry Weber first began work at Sullivan in November of 1963 as an admissions officer, and Professor Bernard Luker left public accounting and a CPA practice to join Sullivan as a full-time accounting instructor in June, 1965. Law instructor Era Ferguson has been with the College 17 years.

Professor George Winfree, and Vice President/Director of Admissions J.J. Volz each will celebrate 15 years of service this year. Instructors Pam Taylor and Mary Sneedker have worked for several years designing and implementing the Word Processing program. Jim Klein has served as an Evening Division Admissions Representative, Apartment Counselor, and Veterans Coordinator. Byron Wunderlich has served as an accounting instructor as well as Registrar.

An amazing statistic is that these eleven individuals have over 200 years of teaching experience between them and an additional 70 years of business and administrative experiences.

The Sullivan Herald congratulates these professionals who have shared so much of their lives and careers with this institution. The Herald was encouraged to share the point that, of course, most of these people were only two and three years old when they started their careers. This certainly is evidenced by their youthful appearance today.
Medical Secretarial Students Recognized with Awards, Reception

Twenty-seven students from Sullivan’s Medical Secretarial program participated recently in a formal pinning ceremony recognizing the completion of the difficult medical portion of their program. Connie Magers, the medical secretarial instructor, provided words of encouragement for those about to enter into their chosen profession and to nearly 100 friends and family members who joined in the celebration.

Dean Higley Offers Congratulations

Dean David Higley congratulated the students for their accomplishments and for the sense of professionalism which the group has demonstrated during their twelve-month program. Edwina Yates and Carolyn Moore from the Secretarial Science Department helped recognize each graduate with a rose while Ms. Magers presented the medical pins. The ceremony ended with the presentation from the class by Sue Ann Forrest expressing their appreciation to Ms. Magers, Ms. Yates and Ms. Moore for their outstanding contributions to the success of the graduates.

Reception Concludes Joyous Event

The festivities concluded with a reception for the graduates and their families and friends. All in all, it was a fitting tribute to both the students and the faculty who worked so hard to accomplish a tremendously worthwhile goal. We at the College salute this outstanding group and wish them well in the future.
Evening Division Popularity Grows at Unprecedented Rates

While many people are "sweating" in the heat of summer nights, evening students at Sullivan College enjoy a studious atmosphere in air-conditioned comfort.

Many evening students enjoy continuing through the summer evenings as they work toward their certificates, diplomas and degrees. Says one evening student, "The summer environment is a good one to be studying. Otherwise, I would be doing next-to-nothing during the evenings!"

And, what type of student begins evening classes during the summer? The largest percentage of them take classes three nights per week. Over one in four have been out of school for over ten years, and seven out of ten of them are working, on top of it all!

In looking over the "new crop", James Bond, an admissions representative for the Evening Division, concludes that "It is obvious that these new students are highly motivated. They are here to enhance their inventory of job skills or to prepare themselves for a better job. The students who are preparing for something different include displaced homemakers, people who are preparing for service—industry jobs, and people who are just looking for something better."

The Evening Division classes at Sullivan attracts students of all ages! Continuing education is the choice for many in the work force today.
Super Jobs Still Available Despite Recession

Placement Director, Jo Frye, is one of the world’s most optimistic people, and for good reason. Despite the current recession, Jo and her staff, Mary Magee and Barbara Rowland, continue to place Sullivan graduates with fantastic success. While the placement office cannot guarantee placement for graduates the record continues to speak for itself.

Graduates who have written the placement office are enthusiastic and grateful for the job Jo and her staff have done. Letters we have received include the following: “Hi! My job’s great. Thanks for all your help and support. I’ll be keeping in touch in the future to let you know of my progress.” Sherri Donahue

“I got a job two days after I put in my application. I’m doing word processing at the University of the South in Sewanee, Tn., and I love it. Tell everybody hi!” Cindy Garrett

“Just a note to let you know how I’m doing. St. Louis is fine and the work is going well. Thanks for your letter and everything you have done for me.” Paula Knight

“I really enjoy my new job! It is both challenging and rewarding. I received personal service, and greatly appreciated it. Thank you for finding me the perfect job.” Darrell Phillips
Dear Jo,

I just wanted to drop you a line and let you know how I am doing on my new job with Southwest Airlines.

I have been with Southwest for over a month now and I feel I am progressing very well. I am thoroughly enjoying working for Southwest Airlines. It is a great opportunity and the benefits are excellent.

I made the move from Indiana to Albuquerque because I felt this was exactly the job I was looking for. Overall I feel that this job fulfills all that I was looking for in a career.

I feel that Sullivan has helped me to fulfill my career goals and I want to extend a special thanks to all who helped make this dream a reality.

Sincerely,

A Secretarial Graduate Writes...

Dear Mr. Sullivan:

A personal note of thanks goes out to everyone at Sullivan that helped me to achieve that goal in life, a step forward into the future to a new and rewarding job.

I will be starting my new job with ITT Business Communications Corporation very soon.

During the job interviews, Mr. James H. Graham, Branch Manager, spoke very highly of Sullivan Junior College of Business. Many times during our conversation he spoke of what a fine school you have.

I want to mention a few people that took the time and were very patient with me when I know they have so many students to help.

Mary Magee in the Placement office worked very hard to find me just the job I feel is what I really want and certainly a job with a prosperous future. She is a very fine person.

I also want to thank Mr. Byron Wunderlich in the Registrar Office. He was so kind and helpful to me each time I phoned him for guidance.

Before closing let me thank you Mr. Sullivan, your wonderful staff, excellent teachers and everyone that was a part of my educational years and I will keep in touch and let everyone know how things are going.

I am very proud to have been one of your students.

Sincerely yours,

Janet Rose Carrico

A Management Graduate Writes...

Dear Mr. Sullivan,

I was a June Graduate of Sullivan Junior College. My degree was in Business Management.

On July 5, 1983 I started to work at Bright Dist. as an Office Manager. As a result of obtaining my degree and changing jobs, I have increased my salary 40%.

Thanks to Mary in the placement office, and Sullivan's outstanding reputation, I now have a job I love.

Thank you,

Travel Club Tours
Europe During Summer Quarter Break

The Travel Club did more than just relax and lay around in the sun during the recent summer quarter break. The long break allowed several Travel Club members to participate in an 18-day trip to Europe, visiting six different countries.

London, Paris, Luxemburg

The first stop on the trip was London, where students spent two days seeing the sights. Traveling on to Paris, the group visited the famous Eiffel Tower and Notre Dame. In Luxemburg, the students visited Rijkmuseum, with its fabulous collection of Rembrandt paintings.

Sweden, Norway

The stop in Copenhagen, Scandinavia's largest city, included a sightseeing tour of the Royal Palace, Tivoli Gardens, and Little Mermaid. The last stop, Oslo, Norway, allowed the group to tour King's Palace, Town Hall, and National Gallery. A farewell dinner climaxed the students experience and prepared them for an early morning flight to New York City.

The Travel Club is composed of students majoring in Sullivan College's Associate Degree program in Travel and Airlines Careers. Trips like this one are planned several times each year for Travel students for credit and for other Sullivan students and friends.

Faculty "Caring Plus" Stretches from Classroom To Community

The "Caring Plus" attitude exhibited daily by Sullivan College faculty members goes well beyond the classroom. Sharon Faith, Program Coordinator of the paralegal program, and Brock Henderson, instructor in management and accounting, are two prime examples. As part of their Graduate School work at the University of Louisville, they have participated in three major projects that are being utilized by the local community. These projects have all revolved around the protection of young people, with each project being wholeheartedly accepted.

Three Projects

The first project was designed for the Jefferson County Exploited and Missing Child Unit. The purpose of the project, entitled Body Safety for Children Kindergarten through Fifth Grades, is to assist the Unit in explaining the warning signs of child abuse and exploitation to children and how they can minimize contact. This project is designed to let children know they have a right to say "No" to unwanted touch and to alert parents to the fact that children are abused 75% of the time by people they know, not by the proverbial stranger.

In addition, Ms. Faith and Mr. Henderson have recently completed two additional projects. These projects, for Superior Court No. 1 of Clark County, Indiana, are being utilized together in a cooperative fashion. The first project deals with the development of a Volunteer Probation Officer Program to aid the county in providing a close supportive role model for youths in trouble. The second program, Juvenile Restitution, is aimed at helping the juvenile repay for damage inflicted on property, and thus develop a sense of responsibility towards the community. Restitution is often used as an alternative to incarceration.

Certificates of Appreciation Awarded

At an award ceremony held on May 17, 1983, Judge Clementine Barthold and Chief Probation Officer, Bob Cadwallader, presented Sharon Faith and Brock Henderson with Certificates of Appreciation as a special way to say "Thank you" for having designed these two projects which are now being implemented by the court. Because of his involvement in these projects, Mr. Henderson has been appointed to the Advisory Board to Superior Court No. 1.

Congratulations and thanks to Ms. Faith and Mr. Henderson for their contributions to the community. It just goes to show, Sullivan people really do care!
Ten Sullivan College computer students recently served as “Computer Consultants” for five Stewart’s Department Stores during a week-long Father’s Day promotion. The students provided the “know-how” to operate the Apple III computers used during the promotion.

Data Dad
The students took charge of each store’s promotional activities by requesting information from consumers, inputting the information into the Apple computers, and then relaying the results to the consumer. The information provided the consumers with a shopping list of gifts that their dad would like based on the information provided.

232 Hours Covered
During the week-long promotion the students logged 232 hours. The Leigh Staples inputs information during Stewart’s Data Dad promotion.

“Computer Consultants” who participated were Deneen Laird, Regina Porter, Leigh Staples, Joe Dicken, Jennifer Hall, Diane Washington, Renita Johnson, Robert Miller, Deidre Johnson, and Jim Suhr.

“The promotion was loads of fun for all of us,” says Jim Suhr. “The consumers’ response was fantastic, the Stewart’s were great, and we had a super opportunity to work with the public.”

Sullivan students get the education necessary to “do” the job right. Congratulations to all for a job well done!
Industry Boom Brightens Outlook For Travel Grads

People who have postponed travel during the recent recession are now beginning to take those long-awaited trips. According to Douglas Frechtling, president of the U.S. Travel Data Center in Washington, D.C., international travel is booming because it’s a bargain now that the value of the dollar is so favorable as compared to foreign currency.

Employment Prospects Brighten

Travel agencies are enjoying the revitalized growth of the travel industry and are reflecting this growth by stepping up hiring of Sullivan graduates. In 1982, even during the recession, 90% of the Travel graduates located employment in the area of their training.

Grads Nationwide

Sullivan’s Travel graduates are working in Massachusetts, Colorado, Texas, Florida, Tennessee, Missouri, New York, New Mexico and, of course, Kentucky and Indiana. Sullivan graduates are employed by travel agencies, airlines, the national park systems, and industry. Willingness to relocate greatly increases employment options.

Be a part of the booming, fast-paced world of Travel. An exciting career in the Travel and Airline field may be just the thing for you!

Execs "Shoot" for 2nd State, 5th National Championship!

With the 1983 Kentucky State Junior College Championship behind them, the Execs basketball team is already beginning to prepare for the 1983-84 season. When you're number 1, it's difficult to top yourself, but Coach Skinner is looking forward to shooting for another State Championship and an unprecedented 5th National Championship. With All-American Reggie Carney returning along with leading scorer Gerald Gray, the nucleus is there for another outstanding season.

Retronees

The losses of point guard Steve Jones and forward Bobby Joe Singleton are the only gaps from last year's championship team. Veterans returning from the championship team include Kenny Siefert, Scott Poe, Jeff Pence, Jim Duffy, Gary Shrouds, and David Moore.

"Rookies"

The competition on next year's team will be particularly keen with the arrival of three new and talented players. Those new additions who will be battling for starting berths are listed below with a thumbnail sketch of each.

Tim Clarkson is a 6'3" guard from Iroquois High School. Tim averaged 16.9 points and 5 assists while being named to the All-District and All-Region teams.

Keith Richardson is a 6'1" point guard from Manual High School in Indianapolis. Keith led Manual to a 23-3 record and number 2 state ranking by averaging 12 points and 8 assists. His outstanding performance was rewarded by being named to the All-Sectional and All-Regional teams.

John Pritchett is a 6'4" forward from Bedford High School in Indiana. John averaged 20 points and 10 rebounds while being named to the All-Sectional and All-Regional teams.

"We're still looking for a good big man to go with the outstanding guards and forwards we have for next year," says Coach Skinner. "If we can find one, we will be extremely tough during the 83-84 year."

All-State Gerald Gray (No. 50) returns with 20 point avg.
Coach of the Year,
All-American, All-State...
Execs Conclude Banner Year

The Sullivan Junior College Executives rolled up the honors at the conclusion of the 1982-83 season. In addition to capturing the Kentucky Junior College Athletic Conference State Championship, several individual Execs were honored at the State, Regional, and National level.

Coach of the Year
For Coach Skinner, having won the state title was satisfaction enough for the long, hard hours spent in accomplishing his goal. But the icing on the cake came with the announcement that he had been named Coach of the Year by the KJCAC coaches. It is an honor richly deserved and especially sweet since rival coaches made the selection.

Reggie, a graduate of Central High School, concluded the award winning year by being named All-American and Player of the Year for the KJCAC. Reggie’s experience will be a tremendous asset to the Execs in next year’s drive for a national championship.

Mr. Skinner, a native of Milltown, Indiana, manages to juggle several jobs at Sullivan. In addition to his award-winning coaching, he is Athletic Director and one of the most popular accounting instructors in the College. He is a graduate of the University of Evansville and holds a masters degree from Indiana University at Bloomington. Dave recently received additional national recognition by being named President of the National Little College Athletic Association for the 1983-84 College year.

All-American - All-State
Reggie Carney and Gerald Gray have been Sullivan Execs for only one year, but in that year they have made quite an impression on players and coaches in the area.

Reggie, a graduate of Central High School, concluded the award winning year by being named All-American and Player of the Year for the KJCAC. Reggie’s experience will be a tremendous asset to the Execs in next year’s drive for a national championship.

Gerald, a graduate of Iroquois High School, led the Execs in scoring with a 20.3 average. His outstanding performance was rewarded by him being named to the All-State team.

All of us at Sullivan congratulate Coach Skinner, Reggie Carney, and Gerald Gray on a super season and wish them the best of luck for next year. With people like the caliber of these, we truly can boast that we are “Number One”!
Intramural Sports Feature
Softball, Bowling, Basketball

For those students who like to get involved in extra-curricular activities, Sullivan Junior College offers a wealth of opportunities. The student activity program at the College is designed to provide a chance for developing leadership abilities, allow students to interact in a non-classroom atmosphere, and to just have lots of fun.

The highlight of current activities is the intramural softball program. This year's team, under coach Jim Suhr, is in top form to defend the league championship it won last year. At press time, the team had some impressive victories and a record of 3-1.

Intramural softball is a coed activity at Sullivan Junior College with the team required to field at least five females. The Sullivan team is ably represented this year.

For those with other interests, the coming quarters will offer a number of other opportunities. There is a tennis program currently being organized for those who are reasonably (?) adept at that sport. The Fall quarter begins the bowling and basketball programs, which traditionally have been the largest and most successful in terms of student involvement. The summer picnic also allows students to show their athletic ability.

With all these activities combined with the traditional dances, student organizations and special events, there is no reason for Sullivan students to have "nothing to do".

Join the fun and participate in intramural sports!

The annual Summer Picnic brings out the best in Sullivan students as they compete in softball and volleyball!!!
A record of athletic success possibly unmatched at any Junior College in the United States has been building at Sullivan College over the past 16 years and continues this year.

Since 1967 thirteen basketball players and fourteen bowlers have been named either first or second team All-Americans in these two sports. Basketball and Bowling are the only collegiate sports Sullivan participates in consistently year-in-year-out.
