Sullivan Students Give—So Others May Live

In mid April under the sponsorship of Phi Theta Pi Honorary Fraternity, the student body participated in a “Walk for Blood.”

In past years the Red Cross Bloodmobile has come to Sullivan for students to donate blood but with the building of the new Blood center just six blocks from the college, it was felt a parade to the center would make those working and shopping in the downtown area more aware of their need to give the needed blood.

The week prior to the walk, an assembly was held and the Red Cross showed a film and gave a lecture on the need for blood. At the end of the film, over 120 Sullivan students signed up to give a pint of blood.

Phi Theta Pi obtained a parade permit and on that fateful morning our students poured out onto Chestnut with banners, signs, flags and a lot of good Sullivan spirit. Much to the surprise of everyone, we were greeted by flashing cameras from newspaper and television crews who had been notified of this happening by the Red Cross officials. The next morning the front page of the Courier-Journal carried a big picture of Sullivan students on their walk.

The walk to the Red Cross center was a fast one and was over all too quickly for most students. No sooner were we in the doors than one by one we found thermometers thrust in our mouths and then onto the table for the sacrifice of giving to help others.

Once on the table though, fears soon disappeared and it was all over and we were given refreshments and a rest.

Several days after the drive, the college received several letters of commendation from the Red Cross and one from Washington from our local congressman, Ramono Mazzoli. Congressman Mazzoli said in his letter, “The students of Sullivan Business College who marched to the Red Cross Blood Center recently are to be heartily commended for their efforts on behalf of a most worthy cause. You all have my personal congratulations for a job well done.” In another letter from the director of the blood center, the following tribute - “Your contribution is unique! We have never had a group to contribute this type of public demonstration of the need to give blood. You are sincerely commended.”

New Freshman Class Tops!

In checking stories in past editions of the “Herald,” this reporter was very impressed with the descriptions of the background of the freshman in previous years’ June Freshmen classes. But in checking the program planning questionnaires returned by this new class in which they indicated the different activities they had participated in, high school, a person just has to be impressed.

The first statistic tells you a lot about the academic capacity of this largest June class in the college history. Over 25% of the class were members of the Beta Club or National Honor Society.

Other major participations noted were: F.B.L.A. Member - 48, Pep Club - 56, Chorus - 22, Band - 22, and Class Officers - 19. Other organizations and clubs mentioned by several members were Co-Ed Y, Senior Play, Teens Who Care, and on and on. Several members of the class lettered in either Basketball, Football, Baseball, or Track.

If we mentioned everything this group has participated in, we would not have room for other stories. All in all, this is really an active group and we hope they will continue to contribute here at Sullivan College.

Over 32 high schools in the Jefferson County system are represented with Valley and Doss leading with 14 and 12 new students respectively. 14 different high schools in Kentucky have one or more members with Bardstown, Carroll County and Hart County tied with 8 members each. Indiana has 19 different high schools with Corydon Central High School with 4 members and North Harrison with 3 leading the group.

We also have 20 cheerleaders, 13 queens, 7 scholarship winners, and 17 members of drill teams.

The boy and girl most active in the June Freshman class are Jimmy Perkins, a 1972 graduate of Taylor County High School, and Patricia Wright, a 1972 graduate of Carroll County High School. Jimmy was involved in the following high school activities: He was class president of his freshman, sophomore, junior and senior class, member of the Pep Club, vice president of Student Council, vice president of FFA, president of DECA Regional, and representative and president of Co-ed-U. He played basketball, baseball, and softball. He was selected outstanding DECA member, and received a leadership award from the FFA.

Patricia was a member of the Y-Teens, secretary of the National Honor Society, a Biology assistant, and Yearbook editor. She participated in the Senior Follies and Junior Play, was a Scholarship Contest. Mr. Perkins will major in Business Accounting Management, and Miss Wright in the Professional Executive Secretary Program at Sullivan.

The Herald Staff extends a sincere and warm welcome to each of our new freshmen. Although you may have been successful in high school, you now have the additional challenges of academic and other successes ahead of you at Sullivan. But looking at your background, you seem up to the challenge.
New College Library Opens With Expanded Facilities

It seems to this reporter that there is always some construction going on at Sullivan. First, there were two new rooms completed last fall and now there is the new expanded library which has just been completed.

Under the supervision of English instructor George Winfree, (who has a college minor in Library Science) the library is being catalogued in a modified Dewey Decimal System. The remodeling and expansion has more than tripled the amount of shelf space available and a campaign is being mounted by the Student Board to ask local business firms to each provide the library with at least two books on their specific field of business. An appropriate notation of that contribution is placed on the inside front cover of those books received. The Board hopes to secure over two hundred current volumes within the next month and leave these volumes as their annual gift to the college.

With the beginning of the summer quarter, the library will be reopened on a regular basis with library aides to help in checking out books. A periodical section will be expanded and in addition there will be an enlarged fiction and current best-seller's shelf.

It really is a beautiful facility and the Herald staff encourages all students to use it to the fullest.

The Kappa Phi Chapter of Alpha Iota International Honorary Business Sorority was reactivated last fall by the Louisville Alumnae Chapter. The first initiation was held at Spalding Center with Miss Pat Wolz, Regional Counselor, as guest. At that time, sixteen girls were initiated into the Kappa Phi chapter.

Since that time, Kappa Phi has grown from sixteen to twenty-seven members. Following the second initiation, in late February, 1972, Alpha Iota and Phi Theta Pi held a party at Mallgate Community Center on Shelbyville Road for the members and dates of the sorority and the fraternity.

One of the main functions of Alpha Iota is to be of service to the school and community. Alpha Iota began their service projects in November by donating a large food box to an elderly couple. During Christmas, Kappa Phi joined the Louisville Alumnae to furnish food and clothing for a family of five. When the March of Dimes campaign began in January, many members joined workers to stuff some 20,000 envelopes for mailing. In April, eight courageous members joined the Phi Theta Pi members and marched to the Red Cross Center to donate much needed blood. Kappa Phi also collected money for the WHAS Crusade for Children at the Shelbyville Road Mall and on Fourth Street. Alpha Iota members hope to make this service project an annual event.

April was exciting for five members of Kappa Phi. Along with the sponsor, Miss Perry, they drove to Springfield, Illinois, for the 1972 Mid-West Regional Conclave. They not only met many people and made new friends during those three days, but also learned a great deal about Alpha Iota as a whole. Kappa Phi was recognized twice at the Sunday morning brunch which concluded the Conclave. Miss Pat Wolz, Regional Counselor, recognized the members of Kappa Phi for reactivation of the chapter at Sullivan and for attendance at the Conclave. It was later announced that the Kappa Phi Chapter had won the Historian Book Contest for active chapters. Kappa Phi will enter its book
Spalding Wins National Award

Joe Spalding, an Administrative Accountant major from Fern Creek, Kentucky, has recently been announced as the local winner of the Baxandall Company National Essay Contest. Joe received a Polaroid camera as the winner of the essay submitted from Sullivan. His essay was entitled, “Why I Am Attending A Private School.” Joe is showing the camera he won in the contest to Mr. Winfree.

Our congratulations to Joe for this outstanding accomplishment.
Graduate Placement Department Expands

The college has added a new staff member to a very important department as far as students are concerned. Mr. James Klein has been employed to assist Mr. Pat Green, the college Placement Director, with the important task of securing good positions for each graduate of Sullivan.

Mr. Klein, a 1966 graduate of Sullivan, has held several positions in the business world including experience as a placement specialist with a local employment agency. He was in the management training program of a large national retailing firm and has other management and business experience. Mr. Klein was captain of the Sullivan Executive’s basketball team, was chairman of the Student Board, and is married to the former Sue Bingham, also a Sullivan graduate. Mrs. Klein was a cheerleader at Sullivan while she was completing a Medical Secretarial Program here. This personal knowledge of Sullivan and its programs, plus the placement experience he holds should enable Mr. Klein to make a major contribution to each of our graduates' success.

Mr. Klein will begin a program soon of personally calling on the personnel directors of many local firms to better acquaint them with what Sullivan graduates have to offer.

Mr. Klein has been an immediate help to the college during the recent illness of Mr. Green and has kept the Placement Department functioning well. This expansion of our Free Graduate Placement can only lead to one thing and that is more and better jobs for Sullivan graduates this year. The college is to be congratulated on the decision to expand this important department.

Jim Klein, the new college Assistant Placement Director, is shown conducting a Graduate Employment Seminar last month.
Spring Dance Ends Student Board Social Season

The last weekend in May saw the Student Board of Directors cap a very busy year with a dance featuring the “Free Approach.” For many students this activity was the last they would be able to attend while students at Sullivan since many ended their programs at Sullivan with the end of the spring quarter.

Student Board Chairman, Kelly Knifley (who is the only student to ever serve for four consecutive quarters as Chairman of the Student Board) and his other board members are to be commended for their steadfast service to the college and all students.

The board this spring cooperated with Phi Theta Pi in the Blood Drive, collected money for the Crusade for Children, organized the new book project for the college library, held dress down days, and in general acted as the sounding board between the college administration it was set up to be.

All new freshmen who are interested in student government are invited to volunteer to become members of the student board this summer.
Softball Team
At Mid-Season

Summer is almost here and Coach Paul Clements and his championship men’s softball team are hard at work reaching for another Mid-City Championship this year.

With a nucleus of top players from last season’s team (who posted a 37 win - 7 loss record) and aided by several new stars, this season’s squad looks like it might better last season’s record.

Coach Clements is looking to returning regular catcher Morice (Horse) Manion and speedy fielder Craig Burton to provide the same hitting they displayed last season. New players who are adding strength to this year’s squad are Jerry Webb, Mike Glasscock, and Bob Kellermeier. In games so far this season, the teams have been led in hitting by Manion.

Regular league games are played on Monday and Friday evenings and admission to all Sullivan fans is free. The competition the Execlsh play in is some of the toughest in Louisville and you will really enjoy the competition when you attend the games. Check the schedule posted in the main hall and plan to attend the next game.

Two of the Executives top sluggers, Bob Segar, and Craig Burton, swing away in early season games at Knights Field.
Chapter Busy On Many Fronts

Officers who reigned for the quarter are Pres. - Jimmy Tannehill; Vice Pres.- Dennis Devore; Recording Secy. - Carl Knifley; Corresponding Secy. - Phillip Martin; Pledge Captain - Doug Adams; Marshall - Jack Rigsby; Chaplain - Steve Grele; and Historian - Louis Thompson. The Chapter welcomes each of the new freshmen and looks forward to having the male students qualify for membership this fall.

Phi Theta Pi has had a very busy quarter topped off by the sponsorship of the Blood Drive in April which was a big success. The Chapter also provided noisy and spirited support to our College basketball team, particularly at the district NLCAA tourney at Columbia.

Other activities included raffles and more raffles as the chapter worked to make money to send some of the members to the Phi Theta Pi National Convention in Columbus, Ohio.

Members of the chapter who attended the convention were Dennis Devore and Carl Knifley. They were accompanied by chapter sponsor, Byron Wunderlich, and it is rumored that they really had a ball while learning about the frat on the national level.

Our graduate spotlight focuses this month on a 1967 graduate of Sullivan, Mr. Ned A. Harris.

This young man’s rapid rise to management success has truly shown what a capable young man with the proper training and motivation can accomplish. While attending Sullivan under the G. I. Bill, Ned studied a combined program of Accounting and Data Processing and maintained a 3.7 average. He did this even while having a family to support and having to work after school.

Immediately upon graduation from Sullivan, the college placement office placed Harris as an Administrative Assistant with the IBM Corporation here in Louisville, a position he held for one year before accepting a better position. (Note: Ned did such an outstanding job at IBM that they immediately called the college for a replacement and another Sullivan graduate, Joe Sickles, was sent and hired. Mr. Sickles is now in the Accounting Department with IBM.)

Mr. Harris’ second position was as Fiscal Administrator with the Park Duvall Neighborhood Service Center here in Louisville. He held that position for two years until 1970 when he transferred to the Housing Opportunity Center in a similar position.

In 1971, Ned was offered and accepted a position as Project Administrator for the Louisville Area Family Planning Council. He presently holds that important position.

The college is extremely proud to recognize this outstanding Sullivan graduate.
